

THEOLA LOGAN, JUNIOR AT BHS, DIES SUDDENLY

Miss Theola E. Logan, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis E. Logan, Biglerville, died very suddenly at her home in Biglerville Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. C. C. Crist, Adams county coroner, and Pvt. Frank Yercavage of the local detail of state police, investigated. Dr. Crist ordered an autopsy by Dr. C. Harold Johnson, pathologist at the Warner hospital, which revealed death was due to a hemorrhage at the base of her brain.

Miss Logan had been in Gettysburg shopping Saturday afternoon. After returning home she dined and had dressed in a new dress purchased here preparatory to coming to Gettysburg with a group of friends to attend a theatre.

Died In Five Minutes

She had not complained of feeling ill and apparently had been in the best of health. A check on food she had eaten failed to reveal any cause for illness.

Miss Logan was standing in a room at her home when her father passed her in going from the room. She did not complain of any illness. A few seconds later, Miss Phyllis Snyder, one of the party with whom Miss Logan was scheduled to come to Gettysburg, entered the house and found Miss Logan slumped in.

HELLER-REEVER NUPTIALS READ IN BIGLERVILLE

The marriage of Miss Martha Irene Reeve, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Luther Reeve, Gettysburg R. 2, to Gerald R. Heller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heller, of Biglerville, was solemnized Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Trinity Reformed church, Biglerville.

Ferns, sprigs and lilies of the valley were used in decorating the church. On either side of the altar were tall white lighted candles and the pews were marked with bows of white satin ribbon.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. O. D. Coble, of Bendersville, gave an organ recital which included "I Love You Truly" by Carrie Jacobs Bond; "Love Dream" by Liszt; "Because" by D'Hardelot; "At Dawning" by Cadman; "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte and "Call Me Thine Own" by Haley.

The "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin was played as the processional and the "Wedding March" from Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream" as the recessional.

Double Ring Ceremony

The Rev. Nevin R. Frantz, pastor of the church officiated, using the double ring ceremony of the church.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with full length train, sweetheart neckline, seeded pearl bodice and long close fitting sleeves which came to a point at the wrist. Her fingertip length veil was shaped to her head with a seeded pearl crown. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

The bridal bouquet was of white roses with white orchid center.

The bride had as her only attendant, Miss S. Jane Kime, who wore a floor-length gown of aqua crepe with which she carried a bouquet of yellow roses. Herman W. Dixon, Jr., served as best man. The ushers were Clark Heller, brother of the bride.

MRS. CLARA RICE DIES ON SUNDAY

Mrs. Clara M. Rice, 88, widow of Harvey H. Rice, died at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Winfield G. Horner, Gettysburg R. 1, Sunday morning at 6:15 o'clock following an illness of nine months from the effects of a fractured hip received in a fall last August 20.

She was a native of Adams county and was born near Gardners. Excepting for a number of years spent near Reisterstown, Md., she resided in the county all of her life. Her husband died in 1889. Mrs. Rice was a member of St. James Lutheran church.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Clyde F. Amos, Wheeling West Virginia, and Mrs. Horner; 20 grandchildren; 15 great-grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Mary Becker, Baltimore.

Funeral services Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Bender funeral home conducted by the Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Gresh, Interment in the Bendersville cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home this evening after 7 o'clock.

Dougherty and Hartley will close all day Friday, May 26th, in observance of Memorial Day, and the usual Thursday afternoon May 29th.

Select Woman For Local School Board Wednesday

Representatives of women's organizations in Gettysburg will meet at the YWCA Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock to select a woman candidate for the school board.

Every woman's organization is urged to have its representative at the meeting. In event the official representative is unable to attend it is suggested that an alternate be named.

The representatives will select one woman to seek membership on the school board at the forthcoming elections in the fall.

The public is invited to attend the meeting, especially mothers of school children.

CHAMBER HAS MANY QUERIES FROM VISITORS

Indications that Gettysburg and the battlefield are due for a banner season this year are shown in the large number of requests being received by the Chamber of Commerce for information on hotel and cabin accommodations, guide service, etc., according to Mrs. Helen Snyder, secretary of the chamber.

"We have received hundreds of letters, and have sent out hundreds of folders," Mrs. Snyder said today. "In addition to sending out the folders, we have supplied information on housing and other matters for which requests have been received, and made arrangements here for bus loads of visitors and smaller parties," she said.

Many School Parties

Sixteen members of the Union Rural school, Milford Center, Ohio, were expected here today, and 12 were also due today from Chatfield Pa., high school. Mrs. Snyder said a group of 30 members of the sixth grade training school class from Bloomsburg State Teachers' college is expected some time this week. On June 7, 23 seniors of the Hyatt's Rural school, Powell, Ohio, will visit Gettysburg. Between 40 and 60 young people will stop here enroute from Washington to Harrisburg on July 12, according to Frank W. Elman, director of the Young Peoples' activities, Iowa Farm Bureau Federation, Des Moines, Iowa.

COUPLE TO WED HERE THIS WEEK

The son of an English couple who came to the U. S. 20 years ago and who fought as a member of U. S. forces in the South Pacific during World War II, and the widow of a Canadian Air Force pilot who was killed during World War II will be married in Gettysburg this week.

The bride-to-be, Kathleen Myra Frances O'Rourke Sturgeon, arrived from England Saturday and is now residing with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Whitaker, Gettysburg R. 3.

She and her husband to be, Norman Blatherwick, Ithaca, N. Y., applied for a marriage license at the Adams county court house Saturday evening, shortly after they arrived from New York. Arrangements for the wedding are yet incomplete, but it is expected that it will take place Thursday.

Blatherwick and his bride-to-be are distantly related and knew each other for years. Last summer Blatherwick returned to England to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Blatherwick, Painsfield House, England. While there he met Mrs. Sturgeon again. A rapid courtship followed.

The bride-to-be is a daughter of Mrs. Myra Robert O'Rourke, Birmington, Kent, England. She lived for a number of years in Canada, until the death of her husband early in World War II, after which she returned to her home in England.

LEETI-SHEELY WEDDING HELD

White snapdragons, stock, white gladioli and palms graced the altar of St. John's Lutheran church, Baltimore, Md., Saturday afternoon for the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Kathryn Sheely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Sheely, Aspers, and John Alfred Leeti, of Indianapolis, son of Mrs. George A. Souers, of Huntington, Ind.

The double ring rites were solemnized at 12:30 o'clock with the rector, Rev. I. Wilson Kepner, officiating.

A 15-minute organ musical was presented by Charles Fitzhugh of Baltimore as A. Stanley Sheely, brother of the bride, and Joseph Juris of Baltimore, seated the guests.

NEW OXFORD HIGH COMMENCEMENT THIS EVENING

"The Widening Scope of Education" is the class theme chosen for 1947 of the New Oxford high school who will receive diplomas this evening at exercises beginning at 8:15 o'clock in their auditorium.

Dr. Thomas L. Cline, of the faculty of Gettysburg college, has been invited as 'guest speaker and has chosen as his topic, "Castles in the Air." In addition to Dr. Cline's talk, numerous student orations appropriate to the commencement theme have been prepared. These will be: "Facing New Tasks," by John Wolford; "Strengthening Home Life" by Evelyn Stambaugh; "Developing Better Communities" by Dorothy Hoover; "Investing in Education" by Alice Jane Stock; "Practicing Brotherhood" by Ivan R. Mechtly, Jr.; and "Building World Security" by Emma Hippensteel.

Numerous musical selections will be heard. The Boys' ensemble, including Eugene Mechtly, Herbert H. Hoke, Norman Haar, Fred Gable, Fred Howe, Ivan H. Mechtly, Jr., George E. Smeltz, Jr., Blaine Williams, and Russell Schriver, with John Wolford as accompanist, will sing "Those Pals of Ours" and "Eight Bells." The Senior chorus has prepared as vocal numbers: "The Ash Grove," "Your Land and My Land" and "Crusaders Hymn" with descant by Nancy L. Gebie, a freshman. The high school band will play the processional and recessional, and the overture. Musical groups, with the entire assemblage, will sing "Alma Mater."

To Present Class

The Rev. Orville V. Warner, minister of Emory Methodist church, New Oxford, will give the invocation, while the Rev. Elmer Drumm, pastor (Please Turn to Page 8)

MAY FETE IS HELD SUNDAY

More than 250 school children of St. Francis Xavier's parochial school participated in the annual May procession at St. Francis Xavier's church Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

Led by the cross and candle bearers and eight altar boys, the school children, all dressed in white, marched from the school to the church and the procession continued through the aisles of the church while the children sang the litany of the Blessed Mother, in Latin. Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stock, rector, and several additional altar boys, followed the children in the procession.

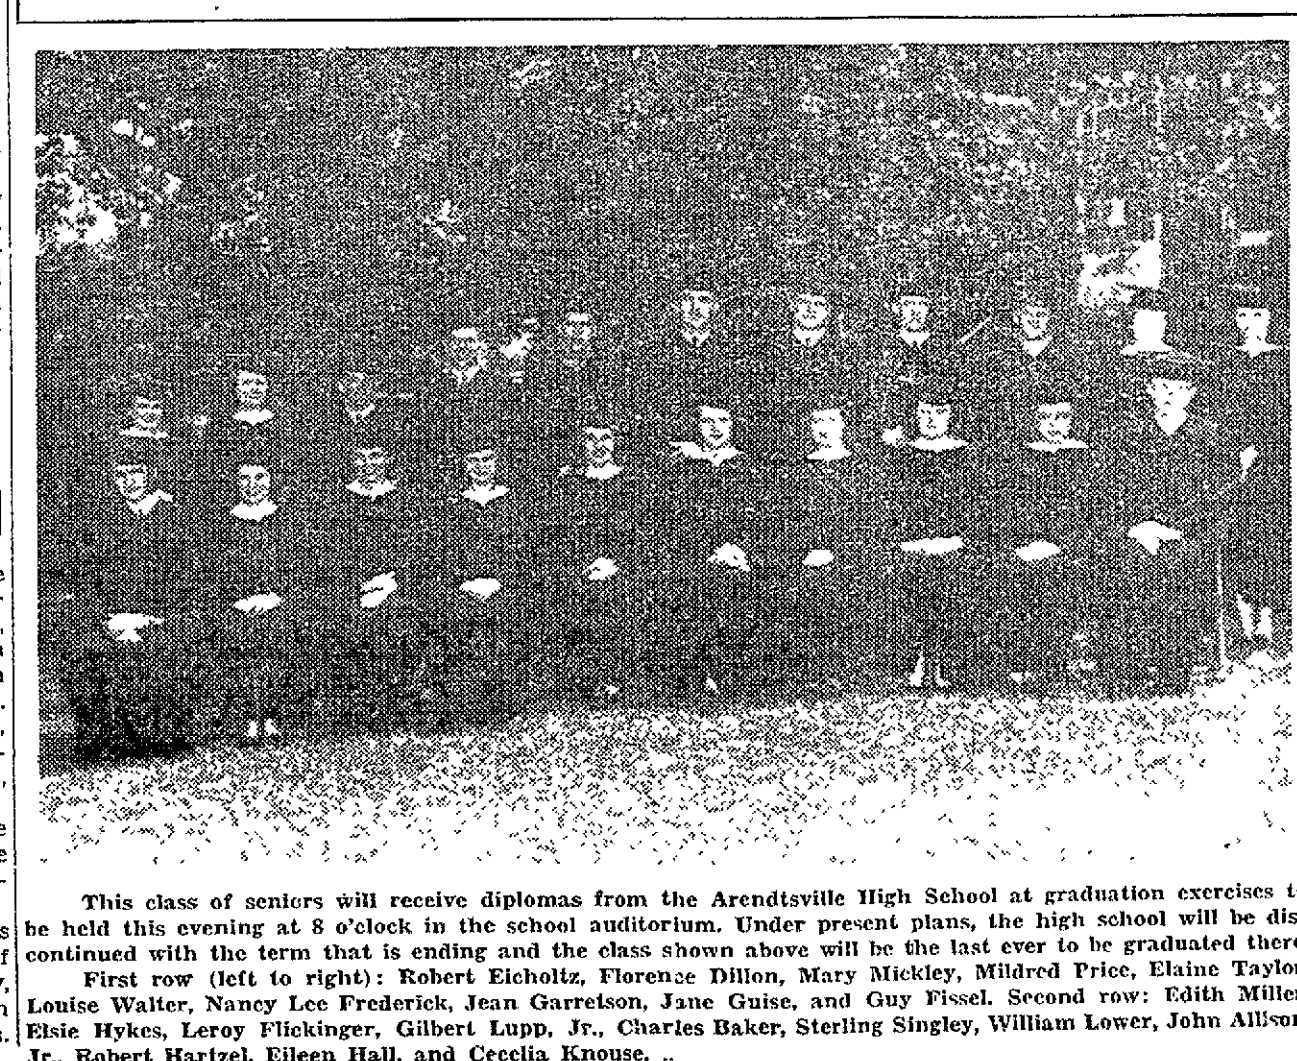

When the school children were seated in the main aisle pews (Please Turn to Page 8)

Church Confirms Class On Sunday

A group of young people were received into membership of Trinity Lutheran church, East Berlin, on Pentecost Sunday by confirmation. The service was originally scheduled for Palm Sunday but was postponed to give catechumens an opportunity to make up the instructions lost during the severe weather last winter.

Those confirmed were: Earl Mummert, Dale Mummert, Rodney W. Sebright, Dale Wolfe, Elvin Lau, Josephine Mixon and Phyllis Myers.

Escapes Injury In Freak Accident

Elmer Bubb, farmer of East Berlin R. 1, escaped injury in the freak accident resulting from the severe wind and rain storm which seriously damaged a wagon shed on his property May 21.

Mr. Bubb entered the shed to wait for the rain to subside before making his way to the house and while he waited a high wind swept through the shed, breaking the upright holding its doors and ripping these doors from their hinges. The roof was also damaged. The gust lifted Mr. Bubb from his seat and carried him a short distance to the road outside. He reports that except for his hat which was carried completely out of sight, he was none the worse for the occurrence.

SAYS SPEECHES NOT ENOUGH ON MEMORIAL DAY

"Memorial Day will be celebrated as usual with hundreds of speeches but if that is all we do we will miss the real significance of Memorial Day," the Rev. Floyd A. Carroll, pastor of the Methodist church here, said in giving the principal address at the annual GAR Memorial service of Corporal Skelly Post No. 9, held by the local camp of the Sons of Union Veterans at the GAR post home, East Middle street, Sunday afternoon.

"The men who fought here were men of conviction. They were willing to pay the price of their convictions no matter what that price might be. They could meet at a spring after a day's fighting yet each held to his own convictions even though it meant fighting, on the morrow, of brother against brother, father against son."

"We should tell our children of this, and of Commodore Perry, who before the battle placed the flag on his ship and the Bible on the flag, we should tell them of the American commander in the Revolution who, when offered a bribe, said 'Gentlemen, I am poor, very poor, but your king is not rich enough to buy me.' We should tell them of General Grant's generosity in refusing to take the horses of the defeated Southern soldiers, so that they would have something with which to begin their lives anew. And we should tell them of General Lee, who, when he had lost all refused to sell his name to a large insurance company for a large income because he felt he could not accept what he had not earned."

Littlestown Couple Hurt In Auto Crash

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Feesser, West King street, Littlestown, were injured at 9 o'clock Sunday morning while enroute to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. David Brown, Petersburg, Va., when their automobile skidded on the wet pavement, near Quantico, Va.

Mr. Feesser, Littlestown grocer, suffered head and chest injuries, and was to undergo x-ray examination today. Mrs. Feesser suffered lesser injuries. They were taken to the Alexandria, Va., hospital.

Their sons, Evan and Burnell Feesser, left today for Alexandria to visit them in the hospital.

Lightning Destroys Vinegar Plant At Peach Glen Factory; Fireman Is Badly Hurt; Loss Is Over $150,000

RUTH MARTIN, M. P. STRAYER WED SUNDAY

Ruth Annetta Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Martin, and William Alan Strayer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin P. Strayer, Chambersburg, were married Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at St. James Lutheran church here. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Gresh, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Clarence A. Meal, Chambersburg, who officiated at the communion service held in connection with the wedding.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin bridal gown with a brocaded taffeta top and with tulle over the skirt. She wore a fingertip veil with a ruffled coronet and carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley, tied with a satin bow.

TWO SERVICES CONDUCTED AT FLOHR'S CHURCH

Two services were conducted Sunday morning at Flohr's Lutheran church—the regular Memorial day service and one for the removal of the service flag which during World War II memorialized the men from the church who served with the armed forces.

The program began at 8:45 o'clock Sunday morning with the Sons of Union Veterans camp of Gettysburg in charge of a memorial service in the cemetery. David A. Taxney headed the group conducting the service. Members of the firing squad included Arthur Warman, Jesse E. Snyder, Otis Walter and George N. (Please Turn to Page 8)

COUNTY GIRL IS WED TO VETERAN HERE SATURDAY

Miss Eva Mae Rothaupt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Rothaupt, Gettysburg R. 1, became the bride of Chester Kenneth Crowl, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Crowl, Westminster, in a wedding ceremony Saturday afternoon at 4:30 in St. James Lutheran church.

The Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Gresh, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a light blue gabled suit with white accessories. She wore a corsage of white camellias.

Mrs. Richard Tawney, Gettysburg, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a salmon suit with black accessories and wore a corsage of yellow camellias.

Fire caused by lightning wiped out the vinegar plant at the National Fruit Product plant in Peach Glen Sunday night causing "between $150,000 and $200,000 damage," M. E. Knouse, head of the county concern said today.

FRACTURES PELVIS

One fireman was badly injured during the conflagration, when a stack of filled number 10 cans, estimated to weight about a ton, fell on top of him. Brought to the Warner hospital by ambulance, the 30-year-old veteran, John Baltzley, Aspers, a member of the Aspers company, was found to have a broken pelvis, two large lacerations of the scalp and a number of bruises and cuts about the body. He was discharged from the army about 18 months ago.

The flames were still burning at the destroyed plant this morning, and it was expected that the fire would not be completely out until some time tonight.

Forty vinegar generators were in the plant that was destroyed. Each of the huge barrel-like generators was loaded with coke through which the apple juice runs in its way to become vinegar. The coke was the material still burning and firemen described it as causing a tremendously hot blaze.

Continue Operations

Despite the fire, the company was able to continue today with its apple production and it expects to resume work at bottling vinegar within the next two days. A new filter had been purchased some time ago and was placed at the Chambersburg plant of the company. That filter is to be brought to Peach Glen to permit getting into vinegar bottling production there, Knouse said. However, the work of producing vinegar will have to wait until a new plant for its generation is completed. The company was about one-half way through its vinegar production from last year's cider press when the fire occurred.

Cider being held for generation into vinegar was not damaged, with the storage tanks far enough away (Please Turn to Page 8)

12 NUMBERS ON MUSIC PROGRAM AT HS TUESDAY

The Gettysburg High school choir will present 12 numbers on the program of its concert Tuesday evening in the high school auditorium, in three groups, and the high school boys' trio will sing two groups of three numbers each. The concert is scheduled for 8 p. m. The choir and trio will be under the direction of Prof. Richard B. Shade, director of music. Alice Plank will be the accompanist.

The first group of songs by the choir will include "Glory to God in the Highest," by Homer Whitford; "Charming Bells," old time; "Madame Jeannette," by Alan Murray, and "Morning," by Oley Speaks.

The trio, composed of Reginald Dunkinson, tenor, Donald Bollinger, baritone, and Bruce Westerdaal, bass, will sing "School," "Funiculi, Funicula," by Luigi Denza; "Beautiful Savior," a melody of the 12th century, and "I Saw Sammie," by Frederick Wick as its first group.

List Familiar Selections

The choir will present "Open Our Eyes," by Will C. Macfarlane; "A-ways," by Irving Berlin; "School Days," by Gus Edwards, and "Cindy," a mountain dance song.

The second group by the trio will include "Dixie," by Dan D. Emmeth; "When I Was Single," "Old Black Joe," by Stephen Foster, and "Let's Build A Bungalow."

Concluding numbers by the choir will be "Nunc Dimittis," by Arkhangelsky; "Mother Machree," Ball-Track; "The Lord's Prayer," by Albert Hay Malotte, and "The Hallelujah Chorus," from "The Messiah," by George Frederick Handel.

CORRECTION

In the article appearing in Saturday's edition of The Times it was announced that the sale at George M. Neely's store, Fairfield would be held June 10. This is incorrect. The sale is scheduled for June 7.

Timely And Modern Suggestions Presented By Builders And Contractors

VALID PROPERTY TITLE REQUIRED IN REALTY DEAL

Few buyers of homes or other real estate realize the importance of having a clear, marketable title to the property which they purchase, according to the experience of mortgage lenders.

Most buyers know that a valid deed must be obtained, but this is only part of the procedure in acquiring real estate. The deed is merely legal evidence of the transaction between seller and buyer and does not necessarily mean that the seller had full legal rights to convey the property. The title must show the seller has these rights.

Heirs Can Sue
Failure to obtain clear title has often proved disastrous for purchasers. Heirs of early owners can and sometimes do sue for and obtain possession.

Any one of three methods is used to determine title. One is title insurance, widely used on the East and West coasts, abstracts of title in the Middle West, and the "Torrens System" used in a few states where the state itself issues the title.

Protection Possible
Both abstracts of title and title insurance involve a complete search of the history of the property from earliest times. Hidden defects in titles, such as forgeries of early deeds, or other flaws often appear. Frequently the chains of title involve examination of hundreds of documents.

To protect the real estate buyer, abstracting firms and title insurance companies came into being many years ago. Now, for a reasonable fee, they will guarantee title or insure the buyer against costs which may arise in obtaining clear ownership.

LAWN REQUIRES SPECIAL CARE

That lawn which looks so bright and green today is likely to develop a bad case of anemia unless it is cared for constantly during the hot months to come.

Perhaps more lawns are damaged by mowing too closely than by any other item of treatment. All the benefits of spring seeding and fertilizing can be easily nullified if the grass is clipped too short. The average lawn should never be cut shorter than one and one half inches—two inches is better—because extremely short grass has a tendency to die out.

Water and lots of it is another treatment which lawns require constantly. An ordinary sprinkling is not enough. The turf must be saturated so the moisture soaks well down to the root structure at least every other day during the hottest, driest months.

As a result of chemical discoveries made during the war, there is no longer any excuse to have a lawn full of weeds. There are any number of preparations on the market that will kill weeds without damage to grass.

New buildings at Sydney, Australia, are limited to 150 feet in height.

A HOME TO LIVE IN

FIRST FLOOR

SECOND FLOOR

Design D-18 is a story and one-half house with two bedrooms and bath on the first floor and space for two bedrooms and bath on the second floor.

The second floor could be left unfinished for the present with plumbing and heating facilities provided for future hookup.

A large living room is L-shaped to provide for a dining alcove and this provides additional light and cross ventilation. The kitchen also provides dining space, and is designed in the efficient U-shape. All rooms have generous wardrobe space. There are coat closets at both entrances and a large linen cabinet.

The exterior is of siding and the projecting portion is brick-veneered. The entrance door is protected by a small porch with trellis for vines and a flower box. The dimensions are 35 feet wide by 28 feet deep.

For further information address the Home Building Editor of The Gettysburg Times or Standard Homes Service, St. Cloud, Minnesota.

BASEMENT IS COOL RETREAT

Fortunate indeed is the family which has a basement finished off as a recreation room because it makes an ideal retreat from summer heat. Many families, virtually live in their basements during the hot months.

It has been only within recent years that much attention has been given to making full use of this one-third of the house. But with the development of a wide variety of first-class wall and floor finishes there is no reason that this space cannot be turned into one of the most desirable parts of the home.

The problem of dampness, so prevalent in many basements, has been solved through development of several waterproofing preparations that can be applied to walls and floor just like paint.

The trend toward oil and gas heat, with the accompanying elimination of dirt, also has given heavy impetus to remodeling.

One thing should be kept in mind, however, when finishing a basement. This is to use as much bright color as possible.

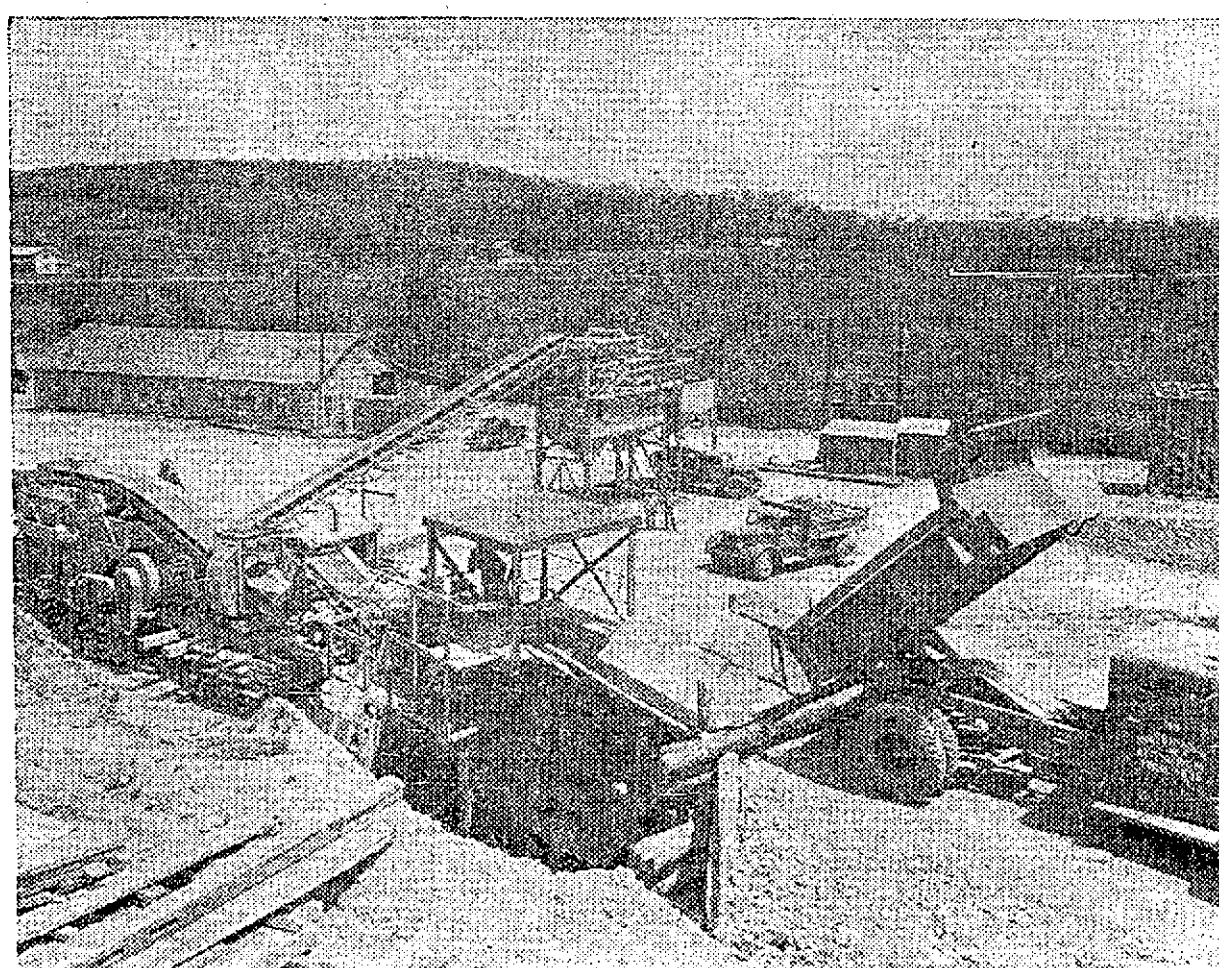

LOWER RATES SOUGHT

A movement has been started recently to obtain lower fire insurance premium rates for structures which are insulated with naturally non-combustible material.

BREEZEWAY IS WIDELY USED

The breezeway has come into wide use among architects and home builders recently.

This covered passage connecting the house and garage provides a cool, breezy living porch opening onto the front lawn and rear yard. The idea is a development of an old New England custom of connecting the house and barn by a shelter for protection against bitter winter weather.

Helps Appearance
Modern designers have discovered that the harsh lines of a box-like house can be softened and interesting masses added to the residence by a breezeway. The area can be left open throughout the year or screened in summer and enclosed by glass during the winter.

Even if the garage is located at the rear of the lot, a breezeway can be provided by moving the garage alongside the house and connecting the two structures.

Idea Is Flexible
Many owners of older houses have done this and found that the move added greatly to their summer comfort and at the same time made an out-dated house appear quite modern.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Playground Opened: Gettysburg's playground was opened enthusiastically on Monday morning by more than 150 children who flocked to the grounds to enjoy the sport provided. Many parents accompanied their children and took lunch along for the children at noon when large crowds ate on the grounds.

Gets Similar Position: Professor Ira D. Cope, for the past three years instructor of manual training subjects in the Gettysburg high school, has been notified of his appointment as head of a similar department in the Carlisle high school. Manual training and domestic science courses have been abolished at the local high school.

Baughter—Maddox: Waneox Place, the country home of the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Maddox, at Wytheville, Virginia, was the scene of a beautiful wedding when on Wednesday evening, June 14, their daughter, Julia, became the bride of George Luther Baughter, of Aspers.

The ceremony, which was performed by the father of the bride, took place on the front veranda, which was tastefully decorated in roses, ferns and mountain laurel. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Robert Geiselman. She was attended by her sister, Miss Anna Geiselman. George Naugle, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

St. James Scene of Big Wedding: St. James Lutheran church was the scene of a pretty rainbow wedding Tuesday evening when Miss Anna Miller became the bride of William G. Weaver. The Rev. Dr. J. B. Baker, pastor of the church, performed the ring ceremony. He was assisted in the service by the Rev. J. Luther Hoffman, of Baltimore.

Miss Lorene Roth was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were the Misses Helen Sefton, Edith Hollinger, Helen Pfeiffer, Edith Sheely, Lola Wierman and Mable McPherson.

Mr. Weaver had as his best man Charles Miller. His ushers were Harold Mumper, James Gilliland, Clarence Sheely, Huber Blocher, H. P. Belknap and Henry Hersb.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Miller.

Dr. Thomas to Speak Here: Dr. John Thomas, president of State College, will be the speaker at the Gettysburg Rotary club meeting, on Monday evening.

American Wins at Golf: (By Associated Press) Sandwich, England, June 23—Walter Hagen, the American amateur professional golf champion, won the British open championship today.

Grading Is Completed: Work at grading the new athletic field at Gettysburg Academy has been completed and it is now being seeded. It is planned to lay out a football gridiron and baseball diamond on this lot, which is situated directly in the rear of the academy building. Athletics have been rapidly growing in popularity at the institution the past few years.

Today's Talk

A CONSUMING PURPOSE

No one with a consuming purpose can say that there is nothing to live for. In all the many confusing and puzzling events of life there are always openings, brightening vistas, and embers of hope, awaiting the one determined to prove himself as worthy of life and all its ever-increasing opportunities for service and happiness.

There are always abundant forces at work to aid the inquiring and the courageous. All of us are venturers, but our compass is faith. First, faith in ourselves, and then faith in our fellowmen. And each supported by our faith in an existing God over all, of whom it is written, even the fall of a sparrow is noticed.

By this consuming purpose do we find ourselves, and learn to distribute our interests, making them one with the many, for none of us can live to himself alone. We must embrace life—learn the human touch, and become one with the beauties and forces of Nature—and to Earth, our mother, as Michael Fairless has so beautifully written.

How can anyone aimlessly look at life, or dismiss its splendors? All about us are aids, suggestions, and examples, placed for our education and profit. One of our great inheritances is our power of choice. Each of us can be selective. Upon our decisions rests our degree of success or happiness. We can be as rich as we choose! Not materially, merely, but spiritually.

One of America's great engineers once told me that he owed his remarkable success to the fact that he wanted it so much that "it hurt"—and so he forged ahead, with a consuming purpose that gave him his heart's desire.

All of our great scientists, artists, writers, industrialists, can well say that what has driven them to achievement has been this one consuming purpose that was ever kept alive within them. And one thing that keeps it alive is enthusiasm—enthusiasm afire! Few things are ever achieved without it.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Growing Pains."

WARNING
"Let lie the sleeping dog," they say,
And here's a warning added to it:
Let still the silent grandpa stay,
For if you rouse him you may rue it.

His boasting nature never jar,
Though curiosity impel you.
Don't ask him how the children are,
Or he will take an hour to tell you.

Once roused, of them he'll start to brag
In speech that's like a river flowing.
And from his pocket he will drag
New pictures he'll insist on showing.

He'll hold you by your coat lapel
Till all their charms he has imparted.
There's far too much he wants to tell
When once you get a grandpa started.

Canning Season Calls For Shelves

The home canning season will soon be at hand and before that time arrives the efficient homemaker will see to it that there is plenty of storage space for the fruits and vegetables she puts up. Shelves can be easily built at extremely low cost in odd corners of the basement or under stair ways. They should be located, however, in as cool a spot as possible and should be of sturdy construction because canned goods are quite heavy. Main framing members should be two by sixes and the shelf supports at least two by fours. If the shelf span is more than three feet, each shelf should have additional bracing.

52-20 MEMBERS DROP SHARPLY

Harrisburg, June 25 (AP)—Membership in Pennsylvania's 52-20 Club, so popular among World War II veterans a year ago, is now in the process of rapid depletion. The state reported only 86,000 veterans are today receiving unemployment compensation payments of $20 a week for 52 weeks, compared to 700,000 who have filed for benefits since the GI Bill of Rights became law September 4, 1944.

Benefits have dropped sharply in the past few months due to veterans finding jobs or exhausting the 52 weeks of payments, said a spokesman for the State Bureau of Employment and Unemployment Compensation.

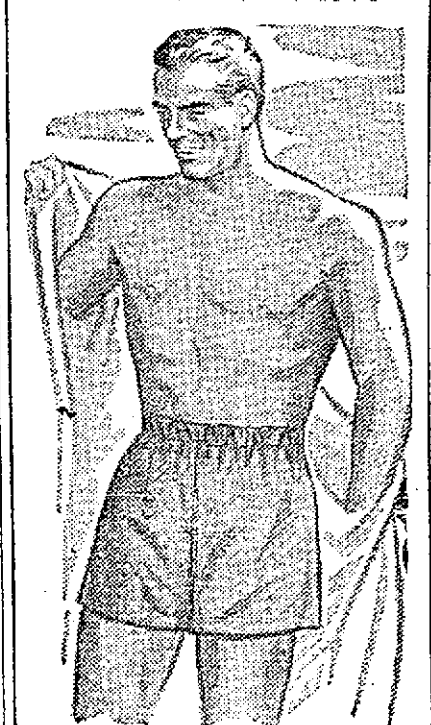

The highwater mark was reached in June, 1946, when $18,954,000 was paid to 247,000 ex-GIs, compared to the present $7,270,000 for 86,000 veterans—a 60 per cent drop in a year.

Millions Paid Out
More than $245,000,000 has been paid out under the 52-20 program since it started nearly three years ago, the entire sum subsidized from the U. S. Veterans Administration.

The full 52 weeks of allowances have been drawn by 50,000 ex-servicemen, but the remainder of Pennsylvania's 1,314,000 World War II veterans have until January 1, 1952—five years after President Truman announced the official termination of hostilities—to claim benefits. New claims also have fallen off considerably, the bureau reported, with only 7,000 last month in comparison to the peak of 33,000 for June last year.

COOL HOMES IN SUMMER WITH EASY METHODS

The homemakers' annual struggle to keep their houses comfortable through the summer is approaching rapidly. Within another month, most American families will begin to spend sleepless nights and stifling daytime hours as summer reaches its full status.

But there is still time to do something about it and there are many steps which can be taken to provide summer comfort without a great deal of expense.

Stop Heat Penetration
The first move is to apply a four-inch layer of insulation above the floor ceiling and to fill the walls with insulating material. This will make the house as much as 15 degrees cooler on hottest days because it retards heat penetration through walls and roof.

The average house can be completely insulated in less than two days by blowing fireproof mineral wool into the walls and other inaccessible space and applying batts of the material in areas where space will accommodate a workman. Cost of this material is no greater than before the war and usually pays for itself in fuel savings within three heating seasons according to the Construction Research Bureau of New York, clearing house for building information.

Other Measures
If windows are opened during the night so cool air can fill the house and then kept closed throughout the day, the insulation will help retain much of the coolness so admitted. Shades should be kept drawn and attics cross-ventilated.

On hottest days, additional coolness can be provided by an electric fan circulating air across a large bowl of ice. Dampened sheets hung in occupied rooms with a fan directed toward them also are used with success.

The kitchen is the source of a great deal of unnecessary heat. Ovens of most modern stoves are well insulated with mineral wool so they do not heat up the kitchen, but there is no way to control the heat generated by top-of-the-stove cooking. Hence, hot weather meals should be planned with minimum preparation on top of the stove.

Doors leading from the kitchen to living quarters should be kept closed when the stove is being used, and electric lights used sparingly.

Pays To Inspect Lots Carefully

A vacant plot is not always a bargain, particularly if located in an area that is fairly well built up. In such cases there is usually a reason it is vacant. Hence the prospective buyer should examine the land closely because a high growth of weeds may hide a lot of faults.

It is wise to walk across it in several directions and note whether it will need an undue amount of filling. Residents of the neighborhood should be queried as to whether water stands on the plot and whether they had excavation difficulties. Solid rock often underlies an area, making excavation extremely costly.

A few holes made with a post hole digger at various points in the plot will reveal whether it has been filled with garbage or rubbish. And don't overlook topsoil. This is expensive to have brought to the building site.

CAN TRANSFORM HOMES EASILY BY PAINTING

There are few things a home owner can do to his house which give such quick and satisfying results as painting. In addition to the protection it affords against rust and decay, paint properly applied can work a complete transformation in any home.

Particularly is this true since paint-making and its application has become an exact science. In fact, paint is often used as an adjunct to the architecture of the home, or to correct minor architectural faults in old houses.

Color Treatment
It has been found that warm colors tend to make an object appear larger, while cool colors give a sense of smaller size.

For example, too-large dormers can be made to appear smaller by painting them a dark green so they blend with the roof and then painting the window sash white. Or a house that is tall and narrow can be tied closer to the ground by painting the first and second stories in contrasting colors and accenting any horizontal lines.

Dry Surface Needed
Summer is an ideal time to apply paint either inside or outside because moisture is not so likely to develop on surfaces as at other times of the year. Moisture is one of the principal causes of paint failures. Even the finest paint will prove unsatisfactory unless applied on a completely dry surface. One should never paint during humid or foggy weather, nor immediately after a shower. Because of heavy summer dew frequently encountered, it is wise to do no painting until the morning sun has dried all surfaces.

CHECK ON ZONING
It is important to check all zoning restrictions before building or buying a home. One often finds that no additions to the house are permitted.

FIX LOOSE BRICKS
Loose bricks in porch steps can lead to expensive damage suits. Be sure they are cemented firmly in place.

About 40 per cent of U. S. communities do not have building codes.

THE GLORY OF A TRIPLE SPRING

My friend Philip Wylie recently wrote an article that opened my eyes to a new appreciation of Spring. He told how one can experience a triple Spring. He left his winter home in Miami, just as Spring was opening up, as celebrated by the glorious singing of the mocking bird. That was Spring number one.

Then, as my friend moved northward in his car, in Georgia and the Carolinas, another Spring of flowering beauty burst forth—azaleas, magnolias, dogwood, peach and cherry blossoms, and numerous others, in a riot of color and perfume. I saw the same, and experienced the thrill and wonder of it all. Then, in early northern May, another Spring—Spring number three—presented itself. But I wonder how many who wended their way Northward from a stay in the Southland ever thought about the fact that they were being presented to such a spectacle as a triple Spring?

Each day I have watched patiently and with wonder, each day's new growth, outside my library window. I await the return of each variety of bird that makes this home spot so endearing to me. The sap is stirring from the moist earth, trees and shrubs are breathing afresh. And each small growth of leaf each day adds a new touch of life and color to my Spring number three!

George Gissing's Henry Ryecroft musing upon his English Spring, wrote: "Spring is shining upon these lanes and meadows; I feel as if I must follow every winding track that opens by my way. Spring has restored to me something of the long-forgotten vigour of youth; I walk without weariness; I sing to myself like a boy, and the song is one I knew in boyhood."

There are millions who are deprived of the enjoyment of a triple Spring, but most of us can drink in the glory of at least one Spring, and thank God in our heart for such a beautiful celebration of Nature renewing its life once more. Even the single Spring triples itself—and more—by its succession of buds and blooms.

General Scott has addressed a long proclamation in Spanish to the Mexicans, advising them to consent to peace, and abandon their proposed guerrilla operations. This, we judge, is all labor lost.

How To Win Easy Victory In Sweet Corn Borer Fight

Home gardeners usually sow sweet corn two weeks before the accepted frost-free date in their neighborhood. While corn can be killed by freezing, the seedling plants have great resistance to frost and if they should be harmed the replanting of small areas is not difficult.

But in sections where the European corn borer is established, this method of obtaining an early crop of sweet corn is beset with danger. The earlier the sowing the more likely the crop is to be attacked by corn borers. Dusting with DDT of at least 3% strength gives control of borers, but late sowing will outwit them.

Dust With DDT
The moths which lay the eggs of this pest emerge from winter quarters when early sown corn is about two feet tall. Eggs are laid on the underside of the leaves of the corn, or where there is no corn, on some plants having "grassy" leaves similar to corn—oats, gladioli, and thus escape the first brood of borers.

The insects hatch out and eat their way along the leaves toward the corn stalk, which they enter where the leaf joins it, or climb to the top and eat into the tassel. DDT dust should be applied while this journey is being made.

A long sweet corn harvest can be obtained by making several plantings of an early variety, or planting at the same time three or four varieties which mature one after the other.

The latter method is popular with hybrid sweet corn varieties which tend to mature in a more uniformity than the open pollinated varieties, giving a shorter harvest season. By planting four varieties, germinating in 60, 70, 80 and 90 days, or as nearly to that schedule as possible, a harvest of six weeks may be obtained.

Late Variety For Fall
Similar results might be had by making four sowings of an early variety, about ten days apart. But for a fall crop it will usually be found best to sow a late variety, taking 80 or 90 days to mature, as the early types seldom do as well in the fall weather. Late varieties are usually taller, have larger ears and yield more heavily than the earlier.

Sweet corn is usually planted in drills, with plants spaced eight to eighteen inches apart, and rows two to three feet apart, depending on the height of the variety. Fertilizer should be applied in shallow trenches on both sides of the row, as with other vegetables. Since the roots are close to the surface, cultivation should always be shallow. Seed should be covered an inch deep in early planting, two inches when the soil is dry.

To assist pollination, at least four rows of sweet corn should be sown at a time, making the rows short, and dividing the pace into blocks, if necessary. When the wind blows pollen from a single row of corn, much of it is wasted, but in blocks, whichever way the wind blows pollen will fall on adjoining plants. Each silk must be touched by pollen to produce a kernel.

EARLY BLOOMING TITHONIA
Tithonia, or golden flower of the Incas, made its garden debut not so many years ago with a lot of fanfare. Unfortunately the first strain introduced was rather late flowering, so that many gardeners lost their plants through frost injury just when they were beginning their flower display. A great many gardeners, therefore, lost interest in this plant.

In the meantime, however, an early-flowering strain has been developed which will begin blooming in late summer and carry intensely rich orange-scarlet flowers on plants five feet tall. The colors vary somewhat on different plants, but all of them represent shades that come well under the description of tangerine orange.

COLUMBINE NEEDS STAKING
Aquilegia, or Columbine, brings to the May garden a wonderful display of large, colorful flowers. Because of the fragile nature of the graceful plants staking before they begin to bloom is necessary. Use several thin stakes to encircle the growth because their charm is lost if the branches are bunched into a clump. One stake for each branch is well worth the trouble where the time can be spared. The newer long-spurred strains are by far the most showy and in addition to a mixture there are several separate colors available in seeds which come quite true.

IT IS NOT TOO LATE

The annual garden fever usually infects non-gardeners most severely during sunny weather in late February and early March. The malady wears off in direct ratio to the rise in seasonal temperature in late April and early May. By this time of the month the patient may be said to be completely cured and there is no danger of relapse until seed catalogues begin to arrive the next winter.

It is not too late, however, for non-gardeners as well as hit-and-miss gardeners to consider seriously the growing of at least a small home plot of vegetables. Why not buy canned vegetables? Are they not cheaper in the long run? And are not canned vegetables higher in quality and nutrients?

The fallacy of living with a can opener needs continual blasting. It is part of the great American travesty. It takes a tremendous toll from national health as well as national wealth. It is part of the beautiful picture which has lured millions of boys and girls from the land into what goes for "careers" in urban existence.

Late May Garden Activities Listed

Give the asparagus bed an application of a complete plant food when cutting has stopped.

Window boxes may be planted now.

Spray grape vines with a Bordeaux mixture and lead arsenate when the shoots are a few inches long to control chewing insects and black rot, which causes dry, shriveled grapes later in the season.

Watch iris for signs of the iris borer in the leaves and cut and burn all affected leaves. Give the plants an application of bone meal, working in around the roots and thoroughly soaking it into the soil.

Boxwood Aphid Control

A weak liquid manure applied to peonies when the buds begin to open will be beneficial. Remove the flowers as soon as they begin to fade.

Dig tobacco dust into the soil around boxwood to control aphids and improve the color of the foliage.

Plant onions, radishes, Swiss chard, parsley, beets, carrots, kohlrabi, broccoli, snap and lima beans and corn.

Now is the time to plant New Zealand spinach to take the place of ordinary spinach, which does not thrive in hot weather. Although this vegetable is slow to germinate, it grows quickly after it comes up and renews itself as fast as the leaves are removed. Thin the plants so they are 12 to 20 inches apart.

Sow Salad Crops

Also sow leaf lettuce and endive for salad crops. Both withstand the hot weather better than head lettuce.

Lilacs should be cut with long stems to take care of the pruning which is needed early. Remove the suckers growing around the base.

Protect from cutworms young plants just set out by placing paper collars around the stems or by putting poison bait on the ground around them.

Spray fruit trees before the blossoms fall for protection against the codling moth and other pests.

FALL ASTER PLANTS
Are Easy To Grow
The hardy fall-flowering asters are superb plants. They come in many attractive colors, excepting only yellow. The blue and pink shades are particularly valued because few other fall-flowering perennials of equal height provide these colors.

They are easy to grow in any good garden soil. A sunny position and good drainage are important to their success. To remain vigorous they require transplanting about every second year.

RESCUE ATTEMPT FATAL
Chester, Pa., May 26 (AP)—Nine-year-old Teddy Pala, who didn't know how to swim, plunged into Chester creek in an effort to save his companion, William Dewees, 6. But as playmates watched, the boys disappeared into a debris-littered stream and drowned yesterday.

Thrace area is the best objective of the project because silicosis seems to occur more frequently in the hard coal fields than elsewhere.

POISON IVY

A U. S. GOVERNMENT BUREAU REPORT announces the discovery of a new tannic acid treatment for ivy poisoning*. The treatment has been found excellent; it is gentle and safe, dries up the blisters in a surprisingly short time — often within 24 hours. These government findings are incorporated in the new product maid of honor. She wore a gown of pink taffeta and tulle with a matching shoulder length veil and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses.

The father of the bridegroom was best man. Ushers included Harry Rhodes, Jr., Chambersburg, and Kenneth Halter, Littlestown. Miss Mary Lou Spangler, of Gettysburg R. D., presided at the organ and played a 15 minute recital prior to the wedding. During the service she played the traditional processional and recessional and accompanied the soloist, Miss Jean Decker, Daltown, who sang, "Through the Years," Youmans, and "Ich Leibe Dich," Grieg.

The bride's mother wore a blue and white silk dress and had a corsage of rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother wore a black and white silk print dress and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

300 At Reception

Approximately 300 guests attended the reception held following the ceremony in the Sunday school social rooms at St. James church. Guests were present from Chambersburg, York, Reading, Harrisburg, Hanover, Littlestown and Gettysburg.

Spring flowers, the wedding cake and white candles decorated the bride's table at the reception. Those who served included the Misses Marian Banker, Shirley Spangler, Hylda Klinefelter, Jean Yealy, Arveta Feaser, and Mary K. Crouse, all of Littlestown.

The bride is a graduate of West Chester State Teachers' college, and Gettysburg high school and is now supervisor of music in the Littlestown schools. The bridegroom is a graduate of Littlestown high school and at present is completing his studies at Shippensburg State Teachers' college. He served in the Navy for three years during World War II, including much duty in the South Pacific area.

Going away outfit for the bride was a tan gabardine suit with matching accessories, and a corsage of red rose buds. Following the ceremony the couple left on a wedding trip to an unannounced destination. They plan to reside at Caledonia upon their return.

THE CLEAN-UP

By Joe Barry

Chapter 6

The sun was bright over Forge City's streets as Rush walked through cool morning air to the First National bank.

"My name is Rush Henry. I believe an account has been opened in my name here."

"Will you step across the lobby to Mr. Brandt at the desk inside the rail? Identify yourself and give him an authorized signature."

That took a few minutes then Rush signed the authorized signature to a check for a thousand dollars. He took it in nine hundred, four twenties and a pair of tens. The sun was still bright as he came back toward the street and turned toward the offices of the Forge City Chronicle. There he asked for Bill Prime.

Rush was shown in a corner office. A man with a shock of white hair over a ruddy, rugged face was working behind a desk. He looked up as Rush entered and nodded him to a chair.

"Mr. Henry?" said Prime.

"Yes," said Rush.

"What can I do for you?"

"Quite a little, I hope," said Rush. "I'm doing a series of articles on industrial cities of the size of Forge City. Trying to show what they're doing in the way of reconversion with a picture of sorts of how the changeover period hits the general public, the merchants, and the factory workers themselves."

"Free lance or assignment?" asked Prime.

"I'm doing them for the Chicago Express," said Rush. "I used to work for Pappy Daley and when this came up I was at a loose end and he sent me."

"Okay, now what can I do for you?"

"Well, I'd like to borrow a man now and then to steer me a little. I'll figure my own slant but I'll miss a lot of angles if I just push around alone. I'd like a little help from the political angle. That is, about city government and its relation to industry and the merchants themselves."

Prime spent a deliberate minute lighting a cigar.

"Your name is familiar. Haven't I heard of you somewhere before?"

"Possibly," said Rush noncommittally.

"You know, of course, that I can get a rewrite on your history in something less than an hour from our Chicago correspondent."

Rush looked up to find Prime grinning at him. He grinned back.

"Yes," he said, "I know that. As a matter of fact I would rather have let that slide so that my history wouldn't influence you either way in giving me the help I want."

Prime smiled a little.

"I remember now. There was something about some emeralds. Old German's kids got in trouble over them some way and you cleaned it up. I cubbed in Chicago a long time ago, and I've still got some good contacts there. So now you're writing articles on industrial cities." His smile was now one of polite disbelief.

"Yes," said Rush ignoring the smile.

"You wouldn't have a side angle on local politics? You mentioned that."

"That's always pertinent," said Rush.

"You'll never find it as pertinent as it is here. I wonder if you know what you're getting into."

He led the way down a hall lined with glazed glass doors to a corner office. He opened the door and motioned Rush ahead of him. Rush took two steps into the room and stopped. Pedrick came to stand at his shoulder. If Pedrick's clothes were Hollywood, his office was strictly Cecil B. DeMille. He looked around for an onyx bathtub. He let his head turn slowly till his eyes met Pedrick's. They were narrowed in a pleased smile.

"Gaudy, isn't it?" he said.

Footsteps tapped lightly down the hall behind them and a girl walked past them and sat at the second desk in the room. She completed the picture. Pure MGM.

PRAVDA CHILLS ACCORD HOPES

London, June 25 (AP)—Pravda, the Communist party organ in Russia, dashed cold water on the warm, friendly feeling which has encompassed Europe since the Soviet Union accepted last Sunday a British-French invitation to talk about the Marshall aid-Europe plan.

With Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov reportedly scheduled to leave tomorrow for Paris, where the three-power talks will get under way Friday, Pravda said no self-respecting European nation could accept the Marshall proposals if acceptance meant American interference in the internal affairs of those nations.

In the first Soviet comment on the projected European "economic recovery program since Russia accepted the invitation, the Communist organ declared:

"If the authors of this plan listened to the counsels of some excessively meddlesome American reactionaries and put forward for European countries conditions copied from the Greek-Turkish model, then it stands to reason that the putting forward of these conditions would deliberately aim at eventual failure of the program planned.

"Such aid would mean in fact interference in the internal affairs of European states and an infringement of their sovereignty, with which not a single European nation which respects itself could agree."

Harrisburg, June 25 (AP)—The Department of Military Affairs announced that federal recognition has been given the 393rd signal radar maintenance unit at Easton, bringing the number of approved units in the Pennsylvania National Guard up to 155.

THE CLEAN-UP

By Joe Barry

Chapter 33
"Okay, then," said Rush. "You'd better forget about killing me and start running. If you kill me it's going to be quite obvious that it was murder."

Pedrick smiled.
"No, Rush, I'm going to knock you out and leave you over the balcony. I'll say you jumped."

"How are you going to get close enough to knock me out?" asked Rush.

Again Pedrick grinned.
"I don't have to. Kit will take care of that. Now, Kit," he said.

Rush whirled. He caught a flash of white, a blur of motion then something exploded below his ear and he fell like a log. He lay very still on the thick pile rug.

"Is he out?" asked Pedrick.
"I think so. Oh, Matt, I'm scared." "Don't be. I have everything figured out. Here, give me his hand. I want his fingerprints on this gun. I'm going to say he held the gun until he jumped so we couldn't stop him."

Pedrick knelt beside Rush and picked up a limp hand. He fitted the butt of the gun in Rush's palm and forced the fingers around it. The trigger finger he pushed through the guard. Then he started to push it back. It wouldn't push. The other fingers tightened around the butt.

"Thanks, Matt," said Rush. He sat up with the gun trained on Pedrick. With his free hand he massaged the bump swelling below his left ear. "That's the trouble with amateurs. They always slip on the simplest things. I doubt if it ever comes up again, Matt, but if it does, don't even give a second's warning. When you said 'now, Kit' you gave me enough warning to let me fall with the blow. I admit I could have fallen the wrong way and really caught it but I didn't and all Kit did was graze me. Now, you walk over to that wall and stand facing it with your hands high and flat against the wall. You too, Kit."

Pedrick looked at him strangely.
"You know, Rush, I'm almost glad. Those other guys were fun, but I don't think I'd have enjoyed killing you. I can't remember having liked a man as a man since my father died. But I liked you."

"Thank you, Matt," said Rush. "I liked you, too. I wish you'd told me what you really wanted. I could have gotten you your town and you wouldn't have had to kill anybody. You'd have had to run it by my rules, but it would have been your town. Now, go over to the wall like a good boy. I have to make a call."

"No, Rush," said Matt Pedrick. "I like my prescription for you." He turned and walked straight to the double doors behind his desk. He opened them and stepped out on to the balcony. Kit screamed.

"Aren't you going to stop him?" "No," said Rush, "I'm not going to stop him."

"Thanks, Rush," said Pedrick. "Buy the boys in the back room one for me."

He turned and vaulted the railing without a backward glance.

The drink was tall. It was very dark, the davenport was softness itself and there wasn't a sound in the room. It was exactly ten o'clock. The silence lasted as long as the tall, dark drink. Ten minutes. Gay poured another. Still the silence. Finally:

"You're almost unbelievable, Gay."

"I like my prescription for you."

AUSTRIA AGREES NOT TO DIVERT U. S. SUPPLIES

Washington, June 25 (AP)—Austria formally agreed today that under pain of losing all help no American relief supplies will be diverted to Russian or any other occupation troops.

This stipulation, plus a guarantee that the Austrian people will be clearly told whence the aid came, was written into the first of a series of agreements under which the United States will spend $350,000,000 to furnish food and other relief supplies to China and a half dozen European countries.

The agreement, signed today in Vienna and made public here and in the Austrian capital, also contains a pledge that full publicity will be permitted on the use of the supplies.

Loading One Ship
State department officials said that two or three ships loaded with food, clothing, medical supplies and other "basic essentials of life" will sail from American ports before the end of June. One already is being loaded.

Under the agreement Austria promises to produce as much as possible of the relief items it needs in order to reduce to the greatest extent possible its requirements from the United States.

The supplies it does receive are to be "marked, stamped, branded, or labeled in a conspicuous place in such a manner as to indicate to the ultimate consumer that such supplies or articles have been furnished by the United States for relief assistance."

When proper labeling is not possible, then the Austrian government agrees to take "all practicable steps" to inform the people that the assistance they receive is coming from the United States.

Hotelman Convicted Of Shooting Wife

Allentown, Pa., June 25 (AP)—A Lehigh county criminal court jury convicted Ferdinand Loikits, Cementon hotelman, of second degree murder in the fatal shooting of his wife.

Judge John H. Diefenderfer deferred sentencing last night pending action upon defense motions for a new trial.

Mrs. Julia Loikits was fatally shot April 6 in a room at the Cementon hotel operated by her husband.

The dead—all passengers of the automobile, were identified by state police as Louis L. Mongillo, Sr., 47; his son, Patrick J. Mongillo, 23, and Earl Roberts, 30, all of South Langhorne, Pa.

State Police Corporal R. D. Evans quoted the bus driver as saying he swerved to avoid hitting a car which crossed in front of him and crashed head-on into another automobile.

A fifth prisoner, William Madis, 27, of Bayonne, N. J., pleaded guilty to the charges.

Pleading innocent were John Gilmer, 28, Scranton; Frank Netters, 48, Oswego, N. Y.; John Delitka, 34, Carbondale, Pa., and Edward Wodakowski, 32, Throop, Pa.

Prisoners Deny Jail Break Guilt

Scranton, Pa., June 25 (AP)—Four Lackawanna county inmates, accused of planning a jail break, pleaded innocent yesterday when arraigned on charges of conspiracy and attempted prison break.

A fifth prisoner, William Madis, 27, of Bayonne, N. J., pleaded guilty to the charges.

Pleading innocent were John Gilmer, 28, Scranton; Frank Netters, 48, Oswego, N. Y.; John Delitka, 34, Carbondale, Pa., and Edward Wodakowski, 32, Throop, Pa.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY

North Truro, Mass., June 25 (AP)—After 54 years of married life, John E. Rogers, 77, and his wife, Ellen, 80, died in each other's arms yesterday of heart attacks. Dr. Daniel H. Heibert said Mrs. Rogers suffered the first attack and shock caused the husband to collapse seconds later. It was her 80th birthday.

Washington, June 25 (AP)—Prices of all living essentials except rent declined 3 of one per cent between mid-April and mid-May for the first drop since June, 1942, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said today. Food prices were off .2 of one per cent and rents rose the same figure.

U. S. SPENDING IN EUROPE IS HUGE PROBLEM

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Ever since the so-called end of the late war the people of this country, uncomfortably mindful of Uncle Sam's terrific expenditure in money and resources, have been worrying quietly over whether his further adventures in aiding foreign nations have been justified by his remaining wealth.

The estimated cost of the conflict to America was some $330,000,000,000—a staggering figure which represents almost half the total expended by all the allies combined. Of even greater concern was the heavy drain on our national resources like petroleum and iron.

The average citizen has had no gauge by which to judge just what this means to America's economy. He has been wondering whether we have been going beyond our means—whether we have by any chance been endangering our position as the world's leading power. His concern wasn't lessened some ten days ago when both former President Hoover and Senator Vandenberg of Michigan warned that the time had come for an accounting.

Called "Over-Exporting"

Vandenberg called for the creation of a council of Democrats and Republicans to study the problem of how far the U.S.A. could go in rescuing the war-torn countries. The senator declared bluntly that "if America ever sags, the world's hopes sag with her." Hoover asserted that the U.S. was "over-exporting" its resources and that she couldn't continue her present rate of gifts and loans "without further evil consequences to our stability."

Now comes President Truman's move in creating three committees of experts to determine the extent to which the United States may "safely and wisely plan" to aid foreign countries. The chief executive took cognizance of the fact that this is "a matter of grave concern to every American."

So in due course we shall hear the

Traffic Deaths Reveal Decrease

Harrisburg, June 25 (AP)—Traffic accidents resulted in death for 110 pedestrians on Pennsylvania's rural highways during the first five months of 1947, as compared with 136 deaths for the same period in 1946.

Col. C. M. Wilhelm, state police commissioner, in announcing the deaths said while the figures continue to show a decrease over last year, we must remember that traffic will increase bringing additional hazards.

Specialists' verdict on our economic status and presumably our policy of foreign aid will be made to fit this verdict—a seven league stride in the right direction.

U. S. Obligations

Still, with all that, there will remain a correlated question which a lot of folk are going to want answered. That is just what are America's obligations, assuming that she is financially able to continue aid?

U. S. Assistant Secretary of State Willard Thorp recently stated that this country already had spent about $9,000,000,000 in an effort to bring about European recovery and that about $4,000,000,000 more had been made available. And Benjamin V. Cohen, state department counselor said that from $15,000,000,000 to $24,000,000,000 would be needed from America and other countries during the next three or four years to prevent starvation and the danger of dictatorship.

NEW TAX MOVE GAINS SUPPORT OF SEN. GEORGE

By FRANCIS M. LEMAY

Washington, June 25 (AP)—Senator George (D-Ga.) threw his support today behind a Republican move to re-pass the vetoed $4,000,000,000 tax slashing bill, revised only to make the cuts effective next January 1 instead of next week.

Chairman Knutson (R-Minn.) of the tax-framing House Ways and Means committee reintroduced the bill yesterday, and Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) said it will be taken up by the House "at the first favorable opportunity."

Asked if this meant action before Congress adjourns in July, Martin replied "We certainly are not closing the door to that." He added: "Since the tax veto was sustained last Tuesday a lot of Democrats who voted to sustain have come to me and said they were sorry—that they have changed their minds. We are sure we have the two-thirds in the House. It's entirely up to the Senate."

"Can't Be Done"

"The Republicans say they will bring the bill up if they are sure of the two-thirds votes in the House and Senate to override another veto."

Crops Doing Well Report Discloses

Harrisburg, June 25 (AP)—With the return of dry weather to most parts of the state the state agriculture department said that stands of corn were generally good, that wheat was coloring in southern counties and the condition of the state's oat crop continued to improve.

The Federal-State crop report disclosed that potato planting is well advanced in northern tier counties and early planted tobacco is growing nicely in the state's tobacco belt.

It can't be done—in the House or Senate.

An informal poll was underway among Senators to determine whether enough support could be corralled.

George, Senate tax manager when the Democrats controlled Congress, told reporters he would support the new bill if it comes up "with much more confidence than the previous bill." The Georgian voted for the previous legislation but said he would support the President's veto if it came to a test in the Senate.

The House, however, upheld the veto by a two-vote margin, 268 to 137.

George observed that with the changed effective date "possibly" enough Democrats might back the new bill to pass it over a veto. However, seasoned lawmakers saw little chance of the measure becoming law this year.

SHIPBUILDERS NEAR STRIKE

New York, June 25 (AP)—A final bargaining session was called today which, if no agreement is reached, may add 1,500 employees of the Atlantic Basin Iron Works in Brooklyn to the 40,000 employees of nine Bethlehem shipyards planning to strike at 12:02 a.m. tomorrow.

Charles Leone, regional director of the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America (CIO), who had announced a break-off of negotiations with Bethlehem yesterday, said he did not expect a last-minute agreement with Atlantic.

"Nothing will move in the Bethlehem yards after 12:01 a.m. Thursday, and probably not in the Atlantic Basin Iron Works' yard either," Leone said. "With the arrival of the July 1 deadline, work in all East and Gulf Coast yards will stop, too." Bethlehem contracts expire at

HONOR AWARDS

State College, Pa., May 26 (P)—E. T. Stevenson, editor and publisher of the Titusville Herald and Jess H. Rodgers, editor and publisher of the Westinghouse Valley News, New Wilmington, were honored for journalism achievements at the Pennsylvania Press Conference.

The two publishers were presented scrolls "for lifetime achievements in the field of journalism" by Prof. Franklin Banner, head of the Department of Journalism, Pennsylvania State college, at the closing session of the two-day event sponsored jointly by the college and the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers association.

"At 68, Mr. Stevenson is today as enthusiastic about newspaper work as a cub," said Prof. Banner in presenting the scroll to him. "He has a deep understanding and appreciation of community standards and writes his stories, as it were, with a soft black pencil instead of a sharp pointed pen."

Banner said to Rodgers: "We are honoring you because of your long interest in community, county and state activities."

Rodgers began as a printer apprentice in 1889 at Irwin. In 1901 he joined the staff of the news but left shortly afterwards to work on a Pittsburgh paper. He returned to Wilmerding in 1917.

Rep. Clarence Brown (R-Ohio) told the conference he doubted that "he can afford another peace," adding: "We have already spent 16 billions since the end of World War II to help bring peace and I regret to say that we have accomplished little."

The Ohio representative said the United States must help "his brother nations" but not to the extent where "our own civilization will be down in ruins."

Two Die, 16 Hurt As Car Skids Into Bus

Meadville, Pa., May 26 (P)—Two men died and 16 bus occupants were injured yesterday in the collision of a West Ridge Pittsburgh-to-Erie bus and a car on Route 19 near Seagerstown during a driving rain-storm.

Martin Musiek, 36, former Meadville man who recently moved to Cleveland, and Park L. Copeland, 35, Meadville R. D., were killed when their car went off the road, climbed back on and then skidded into the side of the oncoming big bus.

The third auto passenger, John Reasbeck, 41, of Franklin R. D. 6, was among five persons hospitalized at city hospital here. He suffered a possible skull fracture and severe cuts.

LEGISLATORS TO CONFER ON TEACHER PAY

Harrisburg, May 26 (P)—Eight key members of the House and Senate Education committees planned a conference today in what an administration source described as "a move to iron out differences" on the troublesome teacher pay issue.

Chairman Frederick L. Homsher (R-Lancaster) of the Senate Education committee, who disclosed that the conference would be held, said last week that Chairman D. Raymond Sollenberger (R-Blair) of the House committee had suggested the meeting.

Homsher is the author of a pay increase bill that is highlighted by a proposal to boost the state minimum pay for college trained teachers from $1,400 to $2,000 a year while Sollenberger, in a House measure, is insisting on a state-wide minimum for all teachers of $2,400 annually.

The Lancaster senator also proposed a minimum of $1,800 for teachers with standard certificates everywhere but in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia where it would be $2,000 with both groups receiving an immediate increment of $150.

The Senate and House measures also differ on the number of annual increments, amounts and the boost in minimum and maximum state subsidies to help finance the increases. Homsher proposing a present top of $2,200 and Sollenberger, $2,600 with further increases in future years.

Asserting his plan — now awaiting approval by the Senate Education committee — carries out the idea of Gov. James H. Duff, Homsher said it would take no more than the $48,000,000 additional available for school financing in the governor's budget.

On the other hand, Sollenberger has estimated an additional $40,000,000 over budget recommendations would be needed to put into effect his salary pay measure in the next biennium and this and other provisions were labeled by Governor Duff as "thoroughly impractical."

Fatally Burned,
Cottage Destroyed

Washington, Pa., May 26 (P)—An explosion and fire yesterday fatally burned 75-year-old Philip Douthitt, of Burgettstown, and destroyed the small cottage in which he lived alone.

The victim told Deputy Coroner H. W. Lee he arose early yesterday to look at the clock, struck a match and set off an explosion of what was believed to have been an accumulation of gas. Douthitt died several hours later in a Washington hospital.

Young Negro Is
Whisked From Mob

Darlington, S. C., May 26 (P)—A young negro, charged with attacking an elderly white woman, was whisked from under the noses of a gathering throng at the county jail here last night and safely imprisoned in the state penitentiary. Sheriff Wiley Grantham said he transferred the negro, Willie Pooler, 20, for "safekeeping from possible mob action."

The case came directly on the heels of court acquittal at Greenville last week of 28 white men charged with lynching negro Willie Earle, accused of slaying a taxi driver.

Grantham said the 67-year-old victim of the attack told of being stopped by a negro man near a wooded patch of ground on the outskirts of town early yesterday afternoon. She said the man was deaf to her pleadings and assaulted her.

Grantham said Pooler confessed at the penitentiary to the attack, a capital offense in South Carolina.

Coutian Awaits
U. S. Army Discharge

Pfc. Robert G. Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Taylor of McKnightstown, who is serving with the First Cavalry Division in the occupation of the ten prefectures of the Tokyo-Yokohama area, is awaiting shipment to the United States where he is to be discharged from the army.

Pfc. Taylor entered the army in September, 1946, and received basic training at Fort Bliss, Texas. Overseas since December, 1946, Taylor was assigned to E Troop, 2nd Squadron of the 12th Cavalry Regiment. A former student of Gettysburg high school, Taylor plans to continue his education under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

NEGRO WHO FLED
LYNCHING PARTY
GIVES UP TO FBI

Raleigh, N. C., May 26 (P)—A young Negro, who outran almost certain death at the hands of a white lynch mob and then hid without food for 48 hours in the dense pine forests of northeastern North Carolina, was in state prison today after giving himself up to the protective custody of the FBI.

In the predawn hours of last Friday morning an armed, masked band of white men seized Negro Godwin "Buddy" Bush, 24, from the Northampton county jail in Jackson where he was being held on charges of attempting to attack a young married white woman.

They carried him to one of four waiting automobiles. Bush gambled, wrenched himself free, and fled into the protective darkness. A mob member fired one shot and missed.

Taken To Prison

Late yesterday after some 75 law enforcement officers had spent two days combing the woods for Bush—or his body, since no one was certain he had escaped—a Negro preacher called Solicitor Ernest R. Tyler. Bush was ready to surrender, the preacher said, if Tyler would guarantee he would not be harmed. Tyler and two FBI agents went to an appointed place and found the Negro. They brought him here to the prison last night.

The solicitor would permit no interviews and gave out only the bare facts of the surrender. However, it was learned here that Bush had remained in the woods until early yesterday, finally going to the home of a friend after being without food since his escape.

Bush was charged with attempting to assault Mrs. Margaret Allen Bryant, a young stenographer, last Thursday night in Rich Square, a small community in Northampton county 12 miles from Jackson, the county seat.

He was arrested by Rich Square Police Chief Frank Outland and was identified by three high school boys who ran to Mrs. Bryant's rescue when she screamed. Outland said Bush denied any knowledge of the alleged assault and told him that he had been "waiting for my girl."

Rescue Starving
Child From Coop

Charleston, W. Va., May 26 (P)—Seven-year-old Delores Diaz, said by police to have been half-naked and suffering from malnutrition when they removed her from a trash-filled, padlocked chicken coop, was being cared for by social workers today.

Her parents, Domingo and Mary Diaz, were in the county jail, charged with felonious assault and neglecting a dependent child.

State Police Corporal R. T. Cummings said the mother told him she frequently locked up Delores "to keep her from running away" and her wrists and legs were tied together "every night."

Cummings said he and State Trooper L. E. Hampton broke a strong hasp and padlock to remove the child from the chicken coop while the parents were away from home Saturday. Charges against the parents were filed yesterday, he said.

Searchers Find
Boys Lost In Woods

Bradford, Pa., May 26 (P)—An all-night search for two fourth grade schoolboys ended successfully yesterday when the grandfather of one found the wet and bedraggled lads sleeping under a tree with the frisky cocker spaniel they blamed for getting them lost.

Terry Moore, 9, and Roger Farrell, 8, said they were "all turned around and twisted up" when they tried to follow the dog chasing a porcupine late Saturday. They were found by Roger's grandfather, Ralph Farrell, four miles from their Songbird homes, after a 50-man searching party spent an uncomfortable night in the woods.

CEMENT BELT
WORKING AGAIN

Allentown, Pa., May 26 (P)—A number of kilns will be back in operation today with others following throughout the week, cement industry spokesmen report.

The Lehigh Valley cement belt is expected to reach full production this week, the spokesmen said, as cement shipments began reaching Philadelphia, New York and Boston where building has been curtailed since the May first walkout of cement workers.

Spokesmen explained that shipments were made from stocks already on hand.

Cement workers in 20 plants have settled their differences with management and signed contracts which run until April 1 next. The men are members of the United Cement, Lime and Gypsum Workers, AFL.

The main dispute—hours of packing house workers—was resolved on an individual industry basis. The union and companies compromised on the starting time for packing house employees. However, no announcement was made of the new hours.

A 15-cent-an-hour increase was granted increasing cement worker wages to an average of $1 an hour. Wages never were at dispute during the strike, agreement on the 15-cent boost having been reached before the strike took place.

If Stomach Gas or
Sour Food Taste
Robs You of Sleep

Here's How You May Help,
Whether You Eat 500 Pounds or 2000 Pounds of Food
In a Year

You can't feel cheerful, be happy and sleep well, if your stomach is always upset. As advances the "old stomach" needs more help. The reason is this:

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this vital juice when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains very special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus richer blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

HOW TO TEACH YOUR DOG TO "COME"
Making Your Dog a Better Citizen
by Tom Farley

In giving the command to come it is always preceded by the dog's name as "Rover Come." When the dog comes his correct position is directly in front of the handler and sitting. Since he has already learned to take this position in the first lesson it should only be necessary to practice having him come from a distance until he never fails to respond.

From a sit position, as shown in pictures 1 and 2, work him from the end of the leash until his response is perfect as shown above. If he is nervous and hard to work with make sure he is getting a balanced diet. If his diet is right but you are unable to work with him it may be best to consult a veterinarian before continuing.

When he has thoroughly learned to take the correct position and sit every time the distance may be increased by walking backward, gathering up the leash, picture 3, to keep it from snarling. The final step is, of course, taking off the leash and working from a longer distance, picture 4. Since this training depends entirely on the dog having learned to sit correctly on the "Rover Come" order you should never fail to insist on his taking the correct position when you call him for any purpose.

Although this is the fifth lesson of the series it is not expected that your dog is letter perfect in any of the things he has been taught. Only long practice can make him prompt and reliable in obeying your commands. Keep working him day after day—not too long at a time but regularly. Perhaps already he has learned to like his daily lessons and if so he is learning much more easily. Don't forget to praise him lavishly when he does well. It is the only reward he needs. With some dogs a play period at the end of each practice session may be a good idea—but remember, you don't need to bribe your dog to do anything—your appreciation is the only thing he really wants.

Manila, June 25 (AP)—A Flying Fortress crashed into the sea at dawn today a mile from its Admiralty-island airfield, and a 13th Air Force spokesman said five of its eight crewmen still were missing. Three survivors were rescued by boat. Tent of their injuries, if any, was not learned. Names were withheld until relatives could be notified.

New York, June 25 (P)—The General Federation of Women's Clubs, at its 56th annual convention, today voted down 556 to 341 a resolution approving pending Congressional legislation which would admit 100,000 European displaced persons a year to the United States. The spirited debate period preceding the vote was marked by boos, hisses and loud applause.

Washington, June 25 (P)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told Congress today that if the United States has another war one of the first things the enemy will do is strike through the air at the industrial centers near the Great Lakes. For that reason, the army chief of staff said, it is vital to the security of this country that United States and Canadian armed forces be prepared to cooperate completely.

Jersey City, N. J., June 25 (P)—Police were notified today that a fire had broken out aboard the S. S. Marine Flier docked at the American President Lines pier. Coast Guard fire boats were sent to the scene.

Add Employes For Battlefield Work

Eleven additional summer employes have been added to the regular staff of 10 workmen to handle the busy schedule of tourist-season work on the Gettysburg battlefield. Dr. J. Walter Coleman, park superintendent, said today.

Mowing along the avenues and the painting of signs, tablets and cannon have been underway for some time. The removal of brush and storm-broken trees from various sections of the field also is being conducted. Some avenue surfaces are scheduled for patching.

Contracts soon are to be awarded for the painting of three battlefield observation towers and bids are being asked for the painting of the seven flagpoles in the National park. The bridge over the Western Maryland railroad on Reynolds avenue also is to be painted.

FLOYD MILLER, 21
ADMITS THEFT AT LEGION BUILDING

Borough police culminated an investigation which has been under way for nearly five weeks, with the arrest at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon of Floyd Miller, Jr., 21, 24 Carlisle street, for the theft of $305 from the Albert J. Lentz Post No. 202, American Legion, on May 23.

Miller, charged before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore, signed a plea of guilty this morning to charges of burglary and larceny, and was held for the August term of court. He was remanded to jail.

Borough Police Chief Robert C. Harpster said that Miller confessed that he was at the Legion home on Baltimore street the night of May 22 and hid in a side room until after the place closed at midnight. He then took the money from a metal box in the grill, Harpster said.

Fingerprints Checked

Legion authorities reported the theft to police and an investigation was immediately begun. Several leads were traced and other suspects investigated, until a "break" in the case came, pointing to Miller as the culprit.

The money was taken in quarters, dimes and nickels. Police said that $184.35 was recovered under Miller's bed at his home on Carlisle street.

Harpster said fingerprints found on the cash box at the Legion matched the prisoner's prints.

Those discharged were Mrs. Herman Arrington, Westminster R. 7; Mrs. Leo Storm, Gettysburg R. 5; Mrs. Harry Mummert, Abbottstown; Mrs. Guy Simpson, Middleburg, Md.; Mildred Benton, Baltimore; Elizabeth Jackson, Sparrows Point, Md.; Catherine Richardson, Carlisle street extended; Robert Anders, Jr., Gettysburg R. 1; Tyrone Maitland, Littlestown; Francis Shultz, 126 West street, and George Bender, Jr., 44 East Lincoln avenue.

Standard Oil Goes Back To Rationing

Chicago, June 25 (P)—A shortage of gasoline in the face of growing demand today forced Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to allocate its output during June, July and August in 12 of the 15 states it serves, the company announced.

The allocation system, which will amount to approximately a 15 per cent cut in the company's current distribution, is the first consumer restriction of its kind since gasoline rationing ended in August, 1945.

The company said it could deliver supplies this summer approximately equal to those delivered a year ago. However, current demand is about 15 per cent above last year, it added.

The shortage was attributed to inadequate pipeline and refinery capacities rather than any shortage of crude oil.

14 YOUNGSTERS
FROM NEW YORK TO VISIT HERE

Six girls and eight boys from the tenement districts of New York who have no idea what life in the country is like are going to spend two weeks in Adams county as guests of local residents from July 9 to 23, Mrs. J. Walter Coleman, chairman of the Gettysburg Fresh Air committee, announced this morning.

Nine families in the county have volunteered to entertain these youngsters in the nation-wide movement to take tenement district children out of the city for vacations in the country. The local committee has been working in conjunction with the New York Herald Tribune Fresh Air Kiddy committee.

County Hostesses

The county families who will entertain the youngsters are:

Mrs. J. R. Riden, Littlestown, two girls.

Mrs. Charles W. Taylor, R. 2, 1 girl.

Mrs. M. M. Stearns, R. 2, 1 boy.

Mrs. L. P. Kooker, R. 2, 1 girl.

Mrs. Louise Hoffman, R. 5, 2 boys.

Mrs. Howard Fellenbaum, R. 5, 2 boys.

Mrs. Anne C. Shields, Biglerville R. 2, 1 boy.

Mrs. Harry Gilbert, R. 3, 2 girls.

Mrs. John Weber, Gettysburg R. 3, two boys.

The children range in age from 7 to 12. They are expected to leave New York early on the morning of July 9, and come to Harrisburg by train from where they will board a bus to Gettysburg, arriving in the square here where their hosts and hostesses will meet them and escort them to their vacation homes.

All in Good Health

An escort will accompany them from New York.

All the youngsters will be in good health, all being compelled to pass a rigid physical examination by competent physicians before leaving New York. Youngsters not in good health are not permitted to leave New York.

The hour of arrival of the bus here with the youngsters will be announced later.

PREPARING FOR HOSPITAL DANCE

Preparations were being completed today for the benefit dance and card party to be held Thursday evening in the auditorium of the Hotel Gettysburg annex for the benefit of the Warner hospital under the sponsorship of the Hospital Auxiliary.

Mrs. Elmer W. Warren, benefits chairman for the Auxiliary, announced today that card playing will extend from 8 to 11 p.m. and dancing to Howard Gale's orchestra will continue from 9 to 1. There will be adequate seating space for persons who attend the affair but do not wish to dance or play cards, Mrs. Warren said.

The drawing for the door prizes will take place before intermission. A Harrisburg decorator was here today to convert the auditorium into a "garden" for the function.

Proceeds of the affair will be used in the fund the Auxiliary is devoting to the cost of enlarging and modernizing the hospital kitchen.

Three Couples Are Licensed To Wed

Marriage licenses have been issued at the court house to Edward Thomas Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. George N. Little, Hanover R. 4, and Miss Sarah Ellen Weaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Weaver, Gettysburg R. 5; to Paul Joseph Lawrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Lawrence, New Oxford R. 1, and Miss Vivian Louise Becker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmanuel J. Becker, McKnightstown, and to John N. Bozonis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Bozonis of Waynesboro and McSherrystown and Miss Pearl Marie Muntz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Millard C. Muntz, Hanover.

California Couple
Honored By Picnic

A picnic-dinner was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hartlaub, Lincolnway east, in honor of Mrs. Hartlaub's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tawney, Ripon, Calif.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Alonza Whisler, Harrisburg; Miss Carrie Tawney, Gettysburg; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Whisler, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Whisler and children, Harold and Donna Lee, Hanover road; Mr. and Mrs. Tony Clapper and son, Eugene, Biglerville; Russell Whisler, Baltimore; Jean Stitt, New Chester; Mr. and Mrs. Hartlaub and children, Richard, Elwood, Jack, Gladys, Terry and Linda.

Gen. Bradley May Succeed
Eisenhower As Army Chief

Washington, June 25 (P)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who led allied armies to victory in North Africa and Europe, will become president of Columbia university when he is relieved as army chief of staff, probably early next year.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, the Veterans Administrator, was regarded today as Eisenhower's likely successor in the army's top job.

Eisenhower also has been elected a member of the university's board of trustees. As president, he succeeds Nicholas Murray Butler, who retired in 1945.

Associates of the five-star general said last night he has discussed his departure from the service with President Truman and Secretary of War Patterson, but without submitting a formal request for release.

A War Department announcement of Eisenhower's plans said, however, that he has taken the Columbia post "with the approval of the President of the United States and Secretary of War" effective "at such time as his superiors may release him from active duty in the army."

The statement added that "with no radical change in the current outlook, it should be sometime during the first half of 1948."

Bradley has long been mentioned as his apparent if Eisenhower should step out as chief of staff. He directed the Army Ground Forces in the victorious European campaign when Eisenhower was Supreme Commander of the allied armies in that theater.

Eisenhower's prospective retirement from the armed forces continues a parade of top wartime brass into civilian pursuits.

Gen. H. A. (Hap) Arnold, wartime air forces commander, has become a newspaper columnist in California. Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, hero of Bataan, plans to return soon to head a Texas grocery chain.

Admiral William F. Halsey is loafing in retirement in Charlottesville, Va., after writing his memoirs for publication in the Saturday Evening Post.

Thousands More Miners
In Pre-Vacation Walkout

Pittsburgh, June 25 (P)—Thousands more of the nation's coal miners joined pre-vacation walkouts today and the first steel industry curtailments because of the two-day-old fuel stoppage were announced.

Field reports indicated nearly half of the 400,000 bituminous miners were idle. Some miners said they walked out protesting adoption of the Taft-Hartley union-curing bill, while others said the stoppage was merely a "head start" on vacations which start in the coal pits Friday midnight.

An attempt by United Mine Workers leaders to start a return to work in West Virginia mines was outdone by new mine closings there. Against 2,000 men returning in Monongalia county, more than 11,500 joined the walkout, raising the state's total of idle to 41,000.

Reports from the coal mines administration and operators listed another 10,000 men idle in western Pennsylvania, raising the total to 51,000 or more than 50 per cent of the soft coal diggers there. In eastern Pennsylvania, the first walkouts occurred in anthracite mines, with more than 3,200 quitting work in the Panther Valley area.

The Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation announced the shutting down of the equivalent of 4½ blast furnaces in the Pittsburgh district. A two-thirds curtailment of its Bessemer department at Youngstown, Ohio, was also effected, cutting off production of 1,500 tons of steel daily.

The corporation's parent firm, U. S. Steel corporation, reported all its coal mines in Pennsylvania and Kentucky were closed, causing the loss of about 70,000 tons of coal daily.

GIRL SCOUTS
PLAN TROOP
IN CASHTOWN

A meeting for the formation of an Intermediate Girl Scout troop at Cashtown will be held at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Fellman, of Cashtown, and all girls in Franklin township between the ages of 10 and 14 are invited to attend and join the new troop.

Mrs. Fellman is troop leader. Assistant leaders are Miss Janet Sharrah, Miss June Kump and Mrs. Kenneth Kuhn. Members of the troop committee are Mrs. Howard Sharrah, Mrs. Martha Fishburn, Mrs. William Dentler, all of Cashtown, and Mrs. Milo Diehl, McKnightstown.

The fifth meeting of the recently formed Brownie troop was held on Tuesday afternoon at Mrs. Fellman's home. There are 16 members of the troop, with Mrs. Fellman as leader and Mrs. Richard Kuhn and Mrs. John Linn, Cashtown, assistant leaders. The troop committee comprises Mrs. C. E. Kuhn, Mrs. Anna Herring, and Mrs. Lloyd Biesacker, Cashtown, and Mrs. Glenn William Heller, McKnightstown.

Meet Every Tuesday

The troop meets every Tuesday from 2 to 3 o'clock. Members are Darla Fellman, Nancy Harman, Marilyn Kump, Mary Ellen Martz, Kay Rebert and Janet and Suzanne Stuckey, Cashtown; Kathryn Fleming, Caroline Heller and Sandra Kent, McKnightstown; Mary Alice Johns and Barbara Ann Wilson, Mummessburg; Carol and Nancy Ruggel, Orttanna, R. D.; Katrina Myers, Seven Stars, and Anna Mae Shultz, Biglerville R. 2.

A joint troop committee meeting will be held Friday at 7:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. C. E. Kuhn, Cashtown.

State Policemen
Nab Three Drivers

Robert W. Hoffman, Spring Glen, Pa., has paid a fine of $10 and costs to Justice of the Peace W. D. Brown, Hunterstown, on a charge of making an improper pass and cutting back in front of another automobile before safely clear, state police, who laid the charges, said today.

John Chronister, Gardners R. 1, will be charged by state police of the Gettysburg sub-station with operating a motor vehicle without an operator's permit and with operating a truck without having it properly registered. The charge will be laid before a county justice of the peace.

James William Cool, Fairfield R. 1, has paid a fine of $25 and costs to Justice of the Peace William Dentler, Cashtown, on a charge of permitting another person to use his registration plates. State police filed this charge also.

Fire Company Hopes
To Net Over $3,000

With several expected contributions still outstanding, the Gettysburg Fire company's receipts from its recent fund solicitation and bazaar, held Thursday and Friday nights last week at the engine house, today totalled $3,205, Donald C. Stallsmith, chairman of the bazaar committee announced today.

"We would appreciate it if those who still have cards or expect to contribute to the fire company would get their donations in as soon as possible," Mr. Stallsmith said.

The fire company expects that net profits will exceed $3,000, he added.

No exact figure is possible until after all bills are in and have been paid, and all contributions have been received, he said.

LITERARY TEA,
FLOWER SHOW
HELD TUESDAY

A literary tea and flower show was conducted Tuesday afternoon in the social rooms of Christ Lutheran church with more than 70 persons in attendance. The affair was sponsored by a group of the Woman's League of Gettysburg college for the benefit of the Music department at the college. Mrs. C. A. Sloat is chairman of the group in charge.

In a setting of palms and spring flowers, Mrs. Kenneth L. Smoke spoke interestingly of the life and works of the English novelist, E. M. Forster.

Prizes were awarded for flower arrangements after entries were judged by Miss Anna Black and Mrs. Frank Glutz.

List Flower Winners

Mrs. C. E. Bilheimer won first prize in the mixed bouquet division. Second place was given an entry by Miss Jean Biggs while third place went to Mrs. Charles Smith.

In the miniature arrangement class the winners were: First, Mrs. Charles H. Heldt; second, Mrs. A. Harrison Barr, and third, Mrs. Lester O. Johnson.

In the dining table center piece, first prize was awarded to Mrs. Howard Bartzell; second to Mrs. Carl Oyer and third, to Mrs. William Wattenmyer. The prizes for the flower show and the palms for decorations were furnished by The Wayside Flower shop.

"Distinguished Writer"

In her review of the Golden novels, Mrs. Smoke said Miss Godden, who has lived half her life in India is acclaimed as one of the most distinguished contemporary writers "possessing integrity, disciplined imagination and the power to use the English language both beautifully and skillfully." Mrs. Smoke said her psychological novels are "little masterpieces of dramatic tension and poetic prose."

In discussing "Black Narcissus," "Gypsy, Gypsy," "Breakfast with the Nikolides," "Take Three Tenses" and "The River" she brought out the three most important things Miss (Please turn to Page 2)

Littlestown
SIX DELEGATES TO CONVENTION

Six members of the Littlestown Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will attend the annual state convention in Philadelphia, Thursday to Sunday. The Littlestown delegates are Robert Barnes, George Collins, Edgar Wisotzky, Bernard Selby, Edward Loeffel, and John Duttera.

The Littlestown Eagles, at their regular meeting, voted $25 to the Adams County Girl Scout Council.

The Littlestown Fish and Game Association will hold an outdoor meeting this evening at the farm of Mervin J. Harner, Black's Corner. Persons desiring transportation are asked to meet at Bankert's Restaurant.

Members of the Brownie Troop of Girl Scouts will meet on the playground Thursday morning at 9 o'clock.

The Tuck-a-bache Sunday school class of St. John's Lutheran church will meet this evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. George Strevig.

Ocker-Snyder Post, No 321, American Legion, will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the post home.

No Candidates Have Yet Filed Papers

With three days already gone, and part of a fourth, in which candidates for nomination at the fall primaries could circulate petitions, none had been filed at the county election board in the commissioners' offices, court house, at noon today.

Numerous candidates are busy, however, obtaining signatures on their designating petitions, some of which, those for county offices, require a minimum of 100 names. Candidates for borough offices or school director require only ten names, the election board said.

Last Saturday was the first day petitions could legally be obtained and circulated. July 21 will be the last day for filing petitions.

New Oxford Asks
Bids On Building

The New Oxford board of school directors will open bids in the high school auditorium Thursday evening, July 10, at 7:30 p. m. for the construction of two class rooms and a storage room and appurtenant work in the New Oxford high school. The board will receive separate proposals on general work, heating and ventilating, and electrical work.

Plans and specifications have been prepared by Shotwell and Eden, Harrisburg architects. Bids will be received by the secretary of the school board up to the time of receiving bids. Plans may be secured from the secretary of the board, New Oxford, the supervising principal or the architects.

The official notice to contractors provides that work must be started within seven days after receipt of notice of award of the contract, and must be completed not later than August 29, 1947.

SCHOOL BOARDS BEGIN FIGURING TEACHER RAISES

By MARTIN BRACKBILL
Harrisburg, June 24 (AP)—Pennsylvania school boards, holding off decisions on next year's budgets pending legislative action on the state's new teacher pay plan, started figuring today how the new program will affect local costs.

The measure, approved by the General Assembly and awaiting Gov. James H. Duff's action, set up a new mandated scale of $1,950 to $3,400 outside of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh and allocated $173,000,000 as the Commonwealth's share of the cost.

In addition, the legislature passed a bill granting school boards and other local taxing bodies authority for the first time to enact levies on wages, sales, incomes, amusements and other things as well as taxes on real estate.

Poor Districts Benefit
The proposed new school law would base state grants next year on the basis of $2,200 a teaching unit and a local effort rate of six mills against the 1945-46 schedule of $1,800 and five mills. No school district, however, would receive less than $700 a unit nor a smaller grant than was apportioned in the last school year.

Largest increases in appropriations under the new schedule will go to poorer districts, a digest of the measure drafted by state education officials showed.

A district with $10,000 of assessed valuation a teaching unit would receive an increase of $390 a teaching unit; while one with a valuation of $200,000 a unit would get only $200 a unit more. A typical district which has $60,000 of assessed valuation per unit would receive an increase of $340.

Explain Computation
State authorities explained that the probable increase in state subsidies payable in 1947-48 "can be readily calculated" by local school officials by subtracting the yield of a one mill tax upon the district's assessed valuation per teaching unit from $400.

As an example, they cited a district with a $60,000 assessed valuation could raise $60 by imposition of a one mill tax and that $60 subtracted from $400 equals $340. A teaching unit is equal under state law to 22 students in average daily membership in a high school or 30 pupils attending an elementary school.

While the maximum subsidy present school year will be $2,200 a unit, it will increase under the proposed law to $2,300 in the 1947-48 school year; $2,400 in 1948-49; $2,500 in 1949-50; and $2,600 in 1950-51. The minimum also will increase to $800 in 1948-49.

May Withhold Approval
The new program also provides that a school district's assessed valuation be used for computing state grants until a new system for equalization of the values of real property throughout the Commonwealth as proposed in another new law is established.

The measure retains authority for the Governor to decide when a provision in present law crediting all one-room schools with at least one teaching unit regardless of the number of pupils shall become inoperative.

At that time, the state council of education would have authority to withhold its approval of such schools unless distance or condition of roads make transportation of pupils to another school impractical, it is impossible to accommodate the pupils in other schools, or the district is financially unable to build a consolidated school.

NEELY'S STORE

store was more closed than open.

During the recent war, when shortages of such things as dress goods, buttons and the like were common, people traveled from cities 100 miles away to visit the Neely store.

Mrs. Neely would then open the establishment and folks found most everything that had disappeared from the market.

Recently the building was sold to Roger Myers of Fairfield, who is planning to establish a restaurant there, and Mr. Neely decided the time had come to get rid of everything in the establishment.

There are a good many things of value, he pointed out, some not quite for their original purpose. For example, there are a number of butter churns which is 1882 were purchased by Mr. Neely's father. Hand cranked, they will not be of much value for making butter, but as good tight wooden barrels they will be valuable.

And another generation might have fun with cap sticks just like daddy did when he was a boy. Someone only 30 years old might not know what a cap stick is—but the youngsters who secure some at the sale should be able to make much noise with them. And noise is good for a boy's soul no matter what year it is.

"The" Spot In 1918
Just stepping into the store—with its stock of articles of another generation—turns the clock back to at least 1918. And there, sure enough, is the soda fountain that during the days of World War I was the most popular feature in Fairfield. In fact it was the only soda fountain in town at that time. Neely recalls some of the ice cream he made for the fountain then, and the pleasure that some young folks had in listening to the victrola in the store while spending a dime for a big dip of ice cream.

There are such things as underwear, work pants, overalls, art work, beaded pocketbooks and hundreds of other things that are as valuable as any new article. And then there is such a thing as the barrel full of straw skimmers. Neely says perhaps someone might want to buy some of the skimmers for a joke. And he has a plan for the rest of them.
Next carnival coming to Fairfield he plans to turn them over to whoever will use them. I man can have a lot of fun at a carnival in a 1917 straw hat.

SURVEY SHOWS

31 men, this gives a total of 317½ hours devoted by the firemen in serving the taxpayers and protecting property.

Ready And Willing
The survey indicates that members of the Gettysburg fire company are, and have been, ready and willing, without hesitation, and without thought of personal risk, to respond to all calls for assistance and the rescue of any person trapped or endangered by fire.

It further indicates that, although the local firemen may not operate with the precision of their well-trained paid comrades of the big city departments, they have shown willingness, speed and courage in service to the community since 1898.

Other residents, the survey indicates, can help the fire men in prompt response to calls for assistance by pulling their cars to the side of the highway when the fire apparatus is enroute to a fire, assuring them that their speed will not be reduced or lives of firemen endangered by blocked or partially blocked highways.

Auto-Truck Crash
Takes Child's Life

Greensburg, Pa., May 24 (AP)—An auto-truck collision at nearby Arm-hurst last night killed a seven year old girl and injured her father and mother.

Killed was little Carol Ann Laird.
Her father, John A. Laird, of Greensburg, son of county judge while his wife, Margaret, was seriously hurt. She suffered a broken arm and jaw and possible concussion. Police said the Laird car rammed the rear of a parked

BULLETS TOP DICKINSON 6-4; ONE MORE TILT

"Bill" Brown, erstwhile third baseman for the Gettysburg college baseball team, got credit for a 6-4 victory over Dickinson here Saturday afternoon although he needed help from Jack Bacon in the eighth when Dickinson tabbed a pair of runs and had the bases full with two out.

A feature of the game was Bob Hart's steal of home in the sixth with a tying run.

Brown was effective until weakening in the eighth. He was touched for a pair of runs in the third. Durgin opened the inning with a home-run to right center. A single and pair of errors produced another run.

A walk to Novak, two outs and a single by Brown gave Gettysburg its first run in the fifth.

The Plankmen tallied twice in the sixth on a pair of walks, four stolen bases and a hit by Joe Cervino.

In the seventh the Bullets clinched the contest with three runs on singles by Kaufman and Brown, a double by Martz and Wileman's single.

Dickinson pushed over two runs in the eighth and had the bases full when Bacon relieved Brown and retired the side when Durgin popped to Wileman.

Next Saturday the Bullets will close their season by meeting Temple university here.

MEETS TURN UP OLYMPIC FINDS

Modesto, Calif., May 26 (AP)—Performances turned in at the sixth annual California Relays here Saturday night and in other meets this season moved one expert today to predict an abundance of outstanding Olympic team track and field material for the United States next year.

Heading a list of shining performances which impressed observers here was the world record-tying time of 9.4 seconds in the 100-yard dash by Mel Patton of the University of Southern California.

The six-foot, 140-pound Trojan, who has shown amazing stamina for a stringbean type of athlete, was clocked in 9.4 by three timers and in 9.5 by another. The absence of a favoring wind prompted Relays Referee Charles F. Hunter to express the opinion the mark would be accepted by the International Track and Field Federation.

Hunter supervised measurement of the racing strip immediately after Patton's sprint and it proved to be one-fourth of an inch over 100 yards. Patton's mark equaled the official record made in 1930 by Frank Wykoff of Southern California and tied by Jesse Owens of Ohio State in 1935 and by Clyde Jeffery of Stanford in 1940.

Williams Favored To Beat Fontaine

Philadelphia, May 26 (AP)—Odds-makers installed Ike Williams, NBA lightweight champion, as an 11-5 favorite to outpunch Juste Fontaine of Milwaukee in a 10-round non-title bout at the arena tonight.

The Trenton (N. J.) titlist has won 20 to 24 starts in Philadelphia rings which apparently accounts for the surprisingly short odds. However, Fontaine has been impressive in recent bouts and may come up with a surprise.

Williams is expected to meet Bob Montgomery, who holds the other half of the lightweight title—the New York-Pennsylvania-California version—to settle the muddled lightweight picture some time this summer.

Hagerstown Wins In Pitching Duel

(By The Associated Press)
Eddie Owar and Roger Bowman hooked up in one of the tightest pitching duels of the Interstate league season in the second half of a Sunday twin bill with a passed ball giving Owar and the cellar-dwelling Hagerstown Owls a 1-0 nod over Trenton.

Each team notched six hits with four of the 12 blows going for two bases. The winning run was scored in the second inning on a single by Ed Crumling, a sacrifice and a passed ball.

The victory gave the Owls an even break for the day as Trenton's Andy Tomasic, former Temple Star, set down Hagerstown with four hits as his mates punched out an 8 to 3 decision.

Rain washed out the remainder of the card although Allentown and Sunbury managed to get in seven innings of their second game before it was called off. Wet grounds had halted the scheduled opener.

Scranton Drops 2, Holds Flimsy Lead

(By The Associated Press)
Scranton clung to a flimsy percentage-point lead in the Eastern league race today after dropping a doubleheader to Williamsport, 7-5, and 6-2, yesterday.

Rain forced postponement of the other three doubleheaders.

The Miners' double loss dropped them to a .686 percentage, a whisker ahead of Hartford with .625.

The Tigers combined good pitching with power at the plate to humble the defending champions.

In the nightcap, Norm Scott hurled two-hit ball. He was aided by three homers.

LOCKE WINNER IN SPECTACULAR GOLFING FINISH

By CHARLES WALSH
Philadelphia, May 26 (AP)—Golfers are hard men to convince.

The links experts, most of those who earn their livings by long tee shots and short putts, went about their golfing business today still discussing with no little heat who is the better man on the course, Hershey's Ben Hogan or South Africa's Bobby Locke.

The spectacular victory of Locke in his duel yesterday for top prize in the Philadelphia Inquirer Invitational tournament may have changed some opinions. Locke started the day five shots behind Hogan, yet playing him man-to-man over a rain-soaked, difficult course Locke turned in two brilliant 70 rounds—each one under par—while the Pennsylvanian soared to 77-73.

Seven Under Par
Locke won the tourney with 277 strokes, seven under par for 72 holes; Hogan finished with 282, in fourth place a shot behind Matt Kowal, Philmont, Pa., and U. S. Open Champion Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago.

That would seem a thoroughly satisfying performance, but not to Mangrum, among others. "Hogan's great, I'll take him every time," Ditto Clayton Heafner, Charlotte, N. C., veteran who picked up a sizeable wage backing Locke after bowing out of the journey himself "he's a wonderful golfer, that Locke. I'll take him any time—except against the 'little man.'"

It's no coincidence that the "little man," to Heafner and the rest of the touring pros, is Hogan. Wringing wet as he came off the drenched course today, Hogan might weigh 135.

What do the two principals say? Locke: "Hogan's a wonderful golfer. I think the only flaw in his game is he hits too hard."

Ball Hit Spectator
Hogan: "Bobby sure was tough—too tough. But I was in good shape until my tee shot on the 16th hit a spectator on the elbow and bounded into the rough."

For the tourney here, Locke won $2,500 first money, Kowal and Mangrum each $1,440 in their tie for second at 281, and Hogan $1,000 for fourth.

E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, York, Pa., and smiling Jim Demaret, Ojai, Calif., shared fifth at $950 each. That left Demaret still heading the 1947 money winners, with Hogan second.

ARGARO TO TRY TO SET RECORD

Atlantic City, N. J., May 26 (AP)—There's some unfinished business to be settled today in the 1947 opening of the Atlantic City race track by Jockey Eddie Argaro and the five-year-old speedster Polynesian who will be out to break the six-furlong record they equalled a year ago.

Argaro whipped Polynesian home in 1:09 1/5 in the Pagaent Handicap last year to equal the world's record.

It will be the same combination over the same distance this afternoon in the $10,000 Inaugural Handicap, opening day feature of the nation's newest major track.

Polynesian, the Elmendorf stable charger, who won his only '47 event in the Fighting Fox Handicap at Jamaica, will shoulder 130 pounds to tight and concede plenty pounds to his 14 rivals, named overnight for the inaugural.

Others Highly Regarded
Eric Guerin, who whispered J.M. Pilot home in the Kentucky Derby three weeks ago, will be aboard Polynesian's chief competition, Joe W. Brown's King Dorsett, weighted at 122.

Also highly regarded is Jaclyn Stables' Inroc, 120, who defeated Polynesian last week in the mud of Belmont's Rosebud. Included among the starters are William Helis' Greek Warrior at 117 pounds and Shamrock stable's Air Patrol at 120.

Eight races will be run daily at the Jersey Shore track during the 21-day session of a 42-day split meeting. Special trains from Philadelphia and Camden will carry racegoers trackside. The first race will be run daily at 1:30 p. m. (EST).

Erie Is Back In Second Place

(By The Associated Press)
All scheduled games in the Middle Atlantic Baseball league were rained out yesterday and last night but Saturday night results saw the Erie Sailors creeping back into second place behind the Oil City Refiners.

Erie defeated Butler 2-0 while Oil City was trimming Johnston 10-9. The Johnstown Johnnies' defeat tumbled them from second to fourth place while Niagara Falls, winning over Vandergrift 6-4, edged into third in league standings. In the fourth Saturday night game, Youngstown set Uniontown back 8-7.

seconds in the 120-yard hurdles, while Ben Sheaffer of Manheim township, Lancaster, broke the class B 880 mark in the event in two minutes.

District seven was second and district three third in all-around competition.

Yelling Is Easy; It's His Business

Philadelphia, May 26 (AP)—Match-maker Pete Moran was sitting with the working press at the fights the other night.

From a big fellow behind Moran came these outbursts: "Come on slugger. Slug him. Lay him out."

Finally Moran turned around and asked: "Hey, don't you ever get tired of yelling?"

"Nope," was the reply. "I yell every day. Only tomorrow I'll be 'strawberries, asparagus, radishes.'"

Arendtsville's unbeaten record in the Adams County Baseball league came to an end Saturday when Orrtanna upset the Apple Pickers 4-1 at Arendtsville.

C. Robert hurled a six-hitter for the winners, three of the hits—be permitted going to D. Allison. Orrtanna collected 10 blows off Spence.

The Gettysburg team absorbed its fifth straight reverse, a 12-5 trouncing at the hand of New Oxford here. New Oxford collected 17 hits off the combined offerings of George Tate and Healy while the locals netted 12 off of C. Bevenour.

Bendersville took over undisputed possession of first place by whipping Emmitsburg at Bendersville 9-2. The upper countians profited on the wildness on the part of Emmitsburg's hurlers to win handily.

Hanover scored three runs in the first inning without the aid of a hit to black Fairfield 3-0 at Fairfield. Sites and Donaldson pitched for Fairfield with McClain doing the catching.

Littlestown nosed out McSherrystown 5-3 at McSherrystown.

Rain caused postponement of the Bendersville-Arendtsville game scheduled for Sunday afternoon at Arendtsville.

Motorist Killed As Car Hits Train

Erie, Pa., May 26 (AP)—Wayne Pearson, 23, of Gasport, N. Y., was killed and four relatives injured one mile east of here last night when their automobile crashed into the side of a moving Pennsylvania railroad freight train at a grade crossing.

The injured were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Coleman, brother-in-law and sister; Mrs. John Pearson, the dead man's mother; and a brother, Melvin, all of Gasport. Hospital attaches said Mrs. Coleman's condition was critical.

YANKS EXPLODE 17 BASE HITS TO BEAT BOSOX

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

That explosion you just heard was the rumor of Yankee dissension blowing up.

The new Kankee spirit born of last week's "revolution" continued to blaze fiercely in the Stadium yesterday when the New Yorkers bludgeoned the Boston Red Sox 17-2, handing the American league champion the worst beating any big league club has absorbed this year. Before the cannonading was over, a total of 17 hits, good for 29 bases, came off Yankee bats as the aroused Bronx Bombers won their third straight from the Red Sox.

The victory carried the New Yorkers into third place past the Red Sox, who dropped to fourth. It marked the fourth straight win for the Yankees since their "insurrection" last Wednesday when six of their members including Joe DiMaggio and Charlie Keller were fined by President Larry MacPhail for refusing to pose for pictures in a promotional venture. MacPhail claimed that the players had promised to do so.

Williams Gets Homer
A home run by Williams, his 11th of the season, with one on in the ninth, accounted for the only runs Boston has made against the Yanks in three games.

The Yanks were still three games behind the league leading Tigers, who divided a double header with the Chicago White Sox in Detroit. The Tigers, behind the seven-hit pitching of Newhouse, won the opener handily, 10-1, but the White Sox bounced back to win the second game 5-2.

In the only other American league game, Washington, paced by Stan Spence's three-run homer in the first inning, defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 3-1 in the opener of a scheduled double header. The game was halted in the seventh inning by rain. The second game was postponed. Rain

SPORTS Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

Detroit, June 25 (AP)—When a golfer can amaze Byron "Mr. Golf" Nelson, he really must be good. And that's just what Jim Ferrier did on more than one occasion yesterday.

When Nelson, who refereed the match, dropped into the press tent afterward—something he never did before his retirement—he was fairly poyeyed over Jim's putting and chip shots. "In 21 years of golf I never saw anyone chip and putt like Ferrier did today," Nelson explained.

BLACKWELL BLACKOUT

Branch Rickey, Jr., who tabs Cincinnati's Ewell Blackwell as the best pitcher in baseball, groans every time he thinks of how the Dodgers lost out on signing the Flinger.

Blackie it seems, wanted to join the Dodgers but he wouldn't sign unless they'd promise to take him to a major league training camp.

Brooklyn was training in Havana that year and Larry MacPhail, who then ran the club, refused to take along any excess baggage, so Blackwell turned thumbs down on Brooklyn and joined the Reds.

To Classify Teams For Pin Tournament

Philadelphia, June 25 (AP)—Joseph N. Appel, secretary of the Pennsylvania State Bowling association, says the state pin championship will be conducted on a classified basis next year.

There will be class "A," "B," and "C" bowling in five man team, doubles, singles and all-events in the 1948 tournament to be held at Harrisburg. There will be a separate prize list for each division.

R. E. Dillinger, Pittsburgh, was elected president of the Bowling group; William Taggart, Lancaster, first vice president, second vice president, and C. A. Wolf, Allentown, re-elected treasurer. Appel still has another year to serve as secretary.

FERRIER WINS TITLE IN PGA; BEATS HARBERT

By FRANK KENESSON

Detroit, June 25 (AP)—Tall, stoop-shouldered Jim Ferrier, Australian-born chip and putt master from San Francisco, ruled as the match king of professional golf today after whipping home-bred Melvin (Chick) Harbert, of Northville, Mich., 2 and 1, in the "Battle of Plum Hollow" for the American PGA championship.

Ferrier, who hadn't won a major national championship since he left Australia in 1939 after four triumphs in the Australian amateur and two in the Australian open, zoomed into fourth place in the pros' 1947 money parade by pocketing the $3,000 top prize here for his first tournament victory of the year.

27 Under Par

In running his tournament earnings to $9,689.16 since the first of the year, the gum-chewing, club-wagging Ferrier played approximately 12 rounds in a week over Plum Hollow golf club's long, tricky, 6,922 yard layout at an aggregate of 27 strokes under par for 204 holes.

If anybody ever won a championship with one club Ferrier did it with his putter. He dropped in a 60-foot putt on the 36th green to carry his third round match with Claude Harmon into extra holes, winning on the 37th, and "putted" Harbert right out of the championship in yesterday's finals.

Ferrier required just 24 putts for the 35 holes his match with Harbert went, dropping six of them at distances ranging from 15 to 35 feet.

Beaten On Putting

Chick, meanwhile, missed a total of eight putts of seven feet or less in the finals, five of them to win and three to tie, and used 62 putts during the day's doings.

"He really murdered me with that 35-footer on the 23rd hole," Harbert said after the match. "We were all square at the time and I honestly was looking for him to take three to get in when he slapped it into the back of the cup for a deuce. I never could catch him after that."

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Pitchers Warren Spahn and Johnny Sain of the pennant-starved Boston Braves threatened today to eclipse the modern National league record number of victories hung up by two pitchers of the same clup in one season.

With 20 wins already, Spahn and Sain, upon whom Braves followers are depending to bring them their first flag in 33 years, stand a fighting chance to better the mark of 52 garnered by Bucky Walters and Paul Derringer of the 1939 Cincinnati Reds.

Spahn, a 25-year-old sophomore from Buffalo, N. Y., nabbed his 11th triumph against two defeats last night when he pitched the Braves to a 9-6 victory over the climbing Cardinals in St. Louis.

Retain League Lead

Spahn's victory enabled the Braves to retain their one game lead over the Brooklyn Dodgers in the torrid National league pennant race.

The Dodgers nipped the Pirates 4-2 in a night game at Pittsburgh. The New York Giants protected their third place hold against the Cubs by slugging the Bruins 11-0 in a day game in Chicago. The Reds edged up on the fifth place Cardinals by knocking off the Philadelphia Phils 4-2 in a night game at Cincinnati.

In the only American league games, both played at night, the Chicago White Sox made it 10 of 11 with Washington by blanking the Senators 3-0 and the St. Louis Browns clipped the Athletics in Philadelphia 12-3.

Rain washed out the scheduled night games between Detroit and the Red Sox at Boston and Cleveland and the Yankees at New York.

Babe Ruth Back In Hospital Again

New York, June 25 (AP)—Babe Ruth is back in the hospital on the advice of his physicians for further treatment and "to take things easy for a few weeks."

"I even got tired taking a walk around the living room," the Babe was quoted by friends as saying as he entered the hospital yesterday. "I can't seem to gain any strength," he said, "so I guess I'll just get some rest here."

Dempsey Observes His 52nd Birthday

Los Angeles, June 25 (AP)—Ten thousand fight fans sang "happy birthday to you" to ex-heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey at the Olympic auditorium last night.

Dempsey, blushing and obviously flustered at the booming chorus, was presented by Al Jolson.

Jolson announced that it was Jack's 37th birthday. Dempsey retorted that he was only 32.

In reality it was the old champ's 52nd birthday, and a cake with lighted candles was presented in the ring.

Favorites Win In Grass Court Play

Philadelphia, June 25 (AP)—Play in the second annual middle states professional championship grass court tennis tournament entered the second round today with all favorites still in the running.

Fred Perry, Miami, Fla., had to come from behind to beat Al Doyle, Palm Beach, Fla., 5-7, 6-1, 8-6.

William Croshy, Los Angeles, eliminated Harold Duncan, Hobe Sound, Fla., 6-2, 6-1, in another first round match.

OPERATION ON DOYLE FOLLOWS ROBINSON'S KO

By LARRY SMITH

Cleveland, June 25 (AP)—Jimmy Doyle of Los Angeles, who was knocked out last night in an attempt to wrest the welterweight championship from Ray (Sugar) Robinson, was operated upon at Charity hospital early today by Dr. Spencer Braden, noted Cleveland specialist.

Hospital attendants said his condition remained critical. They did not disclose what type of operation was performed upon Doyle, but Dr. Braden previously had said the injury might possibly be a blood clot on the brain.

The stricken fighter was still unconscious and had received the last rites of the Catholic church.

Doyle was carried from the arena ring on a stretcher and rushed to the hospital after being floored by a left hook in the eighth round of a scheduled 15-round championship bout before 11,275 which paid a gross gate of $79,340.

Knocked Unconscious

After Robinson delivered the blow, Doyle fell flat on his back, unconscious. Referee Jackie Davis started the count but the bell ending the round sounded when Davis's roll reached nine.

Dr. Arthur Hagedorn, Cleveland boxing commission physician, and Doyle's handlers were unable to revive him.

It was the second time that Doyle had been carried from the local ring and taken to a hospital. He suffered a brain concussion March 11 a year ago when middleweight Artie Levine came from behind to belt Jimmy to the canvas. On the way down, Doyle struck his head on a ring buckle and was out of action for nine months. He started

Baseball Voting To Go 1,500,000

Chicago, June 25 (AP)—The fans' votes for the starting lineups in the major league all-star game at Wrigley field July 8 surpassed the million and a quarter mark today with Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees maintaining the individual vote-getting lead.

Latest tabulation showed a total of 1,274,694 ballots. The million and a half mark was expected to be reached easily before the poll closes at midnight tomorrow.

Election Query Comes From Berlin

Harrisburg, June 25 (AP)—There is a George W. Smith in Berlin, Germany, who is interested in the office of Jefferson county auditor to be filled at the November municipal election.

Charles M. Morrison, secretary of commonwealth, already has received two overseas telegrams from Smith on the question, the first asking that nomination petitions for the office be mailed to George Black, Falls Creek, Pa., and the second inquiring as to the final date for filing the petitions.

The state department answered the first query with the information that such petitions are obtainable at the Jefferson county courthouse and the second that the filing deadline for the September primary is July 21.

Pirates Option Rookie Catcher

Pittsburgh, June 25 (AP)—Roy (Sweet Milk) Jarvis, rookie catcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates, has been optioned to Indianapolis of the American association.

Buc Manager Billy Herman, announcing the deal last night, said it will give the youngster, who will be 21 Friday, a chance to play regularly. Roy caught 17 games and hit .163 for the Pirates. He joined the team this spring.

Hampport, 9-8. Rain prevented the Binghamton-Hartford and Elmira-Wilkes-Barre games.

Good News For Folks Who Suffer From

✓ STOMACH GAS
✓ SOUR FOOD TASTE
✓ ACID INDIGESTION

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief from this nervous distress.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

RAIN STORMS CAUSE DAMAGE

Adams county streams were swollen, some over their normal banks, Sunday afternoon and evening after several torrential downpours of rain. A "flash" flood in the Tiber carried away portions of a retaining wall on the property on Stratton street owned by Mrs. Dora Beall, and occupied by John S. Sentz, Sunday evening. A miniature twister swept through a part of the upper end of the country, in Cranberry Valley, north of Ziegler's Mill, a short distance from Aspers, several trees were blown down. One large tree carried with it an electric service line. An electrical storm also swept across the upper part of the county. A bolt of lightning struck the vinegar plant of the National Fruit Product company at Peach Glen, and the subsequent fire caused damage estimated at nearly $200,000. Streets in Gettysburg ran curb-high with water during two of the worst of the downpours. The thunderstorms passed around the borough, however. Farmers said additional damage to crops would probably result from the heavy rain on land already saturated with moisture. Numerous picnic parties at Caledonia park and elsewhere were interrupted by the rain.

MRS. C. FOULK DIES SUNDAY

Mrs. Clara E. Foulk, 83, wife of Charles E. Foulk, died at her home near Two Taverns Sunday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock. She had been in ill health for a number of years. A daughter of the late Samuel and Ellen Mehling Conover, she is survived by her husband and three children, Roy S. Foulk, Two Taverns; Mrs. Walter A. Morelock, Gettysburg; and Mrs. Roy T. Bittle, White Hall; nine grandchildren, eight great-grandchildren and eight brothers, Harry Conover, Gettysburg, Howard and George Conover, Littlestown R. D.; C. L. Conover, Harrisburg; W. M. Conover, Gettysburg; Charles Conover, Aspers; Claude Conover, Harney, Md., and Norman Conover, Two Taverns. She was a lifelong member of Grace Lutheran church, Two Taverns and was active in the Ladies' Aid of that church. Funeral services Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from the Little funeral home in Littlestown with the Rev. Dr. J. M. Myers officiating. Interment in the Grace Lutheran cemetery, Two Taverns. Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. CARBAUGH

Mrs. Rachel Margaret Scott Carbaugh, 67, widow of Harry Carbaugh, died at her home in Freedom township, Gettysburg R. 2, Sunday morning at 6:30 o'clock from a heart condition. She had been in ill health for six weeks. She was born in Freedom township and died in the home in which she was born. Mrs. Carbaugh was a daughter of the late Washington Winfield and Nancy Rebecca (Brown) Scott. Her husband died about 35 years ago. After the death of her husband she resided with her brother, E. Elmer Scott, at the old homestead. She was a member of Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian church. Surviving are three brothers, Edward A. Scott, Gettysburg; J. Luther Scott, Freedom township, and W. Elmer Scott, at home, and one sister, Mrs. Clarence Bristor, Gettysburg. Funeral services from the Bender funeral home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock conducted by the Rev. Harry Ecker, interment in Evergreen cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Seminary Graduate Named York Pastor

The Rev. Gordon E. Folkemer was unanimously elected Sunday by the congregation of St. Matthew's Lutheran church, York, to succeed the late Rev. Dr. Joseph B. Baker as the church's pastor. Rev. Mr. Folkemer was notified in writing of his election but has not yet notified the church council of his acceptance. If he accepts the pastorate, the appointment must be approved by the Central Pennsylvania synod of the Lutheran church. Assistant pastor at St. Matthew's since his graduation from the Gettysburg Theological seminary in 1944, Rev. Folkemer assumed the duties of pastor during the illness and after the death, August 8, of Dr. Baker. He was nominated recently by the church pulp committee for the pastorate.

Attorney Swope Is Fairfield Speaker

"It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced" was the theme of the Memorial Day address delivered by Attorney Donald M. Swope, Gettysburg, at Fairfield on Sunday afternoon. "To this task," Mr. Swope continued, "every Memorial Day must be dedicated. We fought the last two wars for various reasons. Their winning, however, have served to raise new and important questions for us in our efforts to create a lasting peace." Mr. Swope presented some of the problems facing our nation without suggesting their solutions except that "we must follow an unselfish policy to continue peace and security." Then those who "gave their lives" that this nation might live will not have died in vain.

The invocation was given by the Rev. G. S. Stoneback. Lincoln's Gettysburg Address was given by Robert Scott and a reading was given by Miss Ethel Grace Allison. Special music was presented by a chorus and the Fairfield band. Benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Cletus A. Hauck.

BROTHERHOOD ELECTS HEADS

Merwyn C. Fuss, Taneytown, was re-elected president of the Maryland Synodical Brotherhood of the United Lutheran Church in America at the opening sessions this morning of the twenty-seventh annual convention being held at the Church of the Abiding Presence at the Lutheran seminary here.

Fred W. Konemann, Washington, was named first vice president; H. L. Piliert, Baltimore, second vice president; Carl H. Hornbeck, Baltimore, secretary; John L. Shaw, of Frederick, treasurer, and the Rev. John C. Stuff, Baltimore, pastoral adviser.

"It is up to the laymen to go out and Christianize the world," Dr. Thomas L. Cline, of the faculty of Gettysburg college, who was the principal speaker this morning, told the group. "The church is not a one-man organization. The pastor cannot do all of the work. The layman has as much of an obligation as the pastor."

Urges Political Action

"The church must get into politics, although politics must be kept out of the church," Martin A. McGroary, Washington, D. C., vice president of the Brotherhood of the United Lutheran Church in America told the delegates this afternoon. He spoke on "Rebuilding for Christ Through the Practice and Promotion of Christian Citizenship." Declaring that "the idea of separation of church and state has resulted in the fact that Christianity has been kept out of our laws," McGroary urged every member to take an active part in politics in fighting against what he termed "un-Christian laws."

Executive Committee

Named to the executive committee of the brotherhood were Mr. McGroary, J. Harold Hooper, Walkersville; Raymond Geddes, Baltimore, and Carl L. Schaeffer, Westminster.

Six new Brotherhoods have been added to the organization during the year bringing the total to 141 with over 1,200 members in Maryland and the District of Columbia, President Fuss reported. The new Brotherhoods are Ascension, Baltimore; Zion, Middletown; St. Benjamin's, near Westminster; Reformation, Washington; St. Paul's, Frostburg, and Holy Comforter, Washington.

Resolutions adopted this morning urged each brotherhood to form a Boy Scout troop in its parish and to set as a goal for membership 25 per cent of its male membership in each church.

Weddings

Baldwin-Sadler

The marriage of Miss Helen Virginia Sadler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Sadler, Gardner, R. D., to Alpheus Herr Baldwin, son of Col. and Mrs. Aubrey Baldwin, Carlisle R. 3, took place Saturday afternoon in Second Presbyterian church, Carlisle. The Rev. J. Resler Shultz, pastor of First Methodist church, Altoona, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Glenn M. Shafer, pastor of the Carlisle church.

Mrs. Margaretta Sadler Johnson, attended her sister as matron of honor.

Aubrey Baldwin, Jr., of Philadelphia, served his brother as best man. Ushers were Bertram Baldwin and Richard Baldwin, of Pine Grove Furnace, brothers of the bridegroom; Watson Sadler, Gardner, brother of the bride, and Ivan Carter, Jr., Carlisle.

SAYS SPEECHES

ers and speeches for the dead and a challenge for the living. The highest tribute we can pay those we honor is to continue what they began. The freedom and victories won by fallen heroes cannot be perfected without our contribution. There are two areas in which we can enlarge upon the work they began.

"We can continue to hammer away at sectionalism and racism. The victory here at Gettysburg was a mortal blow to the idea that there is a North and a South. It was the beginning of the permanent United States of America.

"We must continue and enlarge their work. We must extend that beginning to include not only the U. S. but the world. We must build a United Nations of the World as they built the United States of America.

Cites Lynch Case

"The battle here was a mortal blow to slavery. It was the beginning of opportunity and justice for all. This has not even yet been perfected. Only last week in a southern town a 12-man jury sworn to give justice without prejudice released men who had lynched a Negro. This was a gross miscarriage of justice. And such actions still take place not only in the south but in the north. There are many places where Negro scholars of outstanding ability cannot enter a restaurant for a meal or a hotel for a night's rest. Lincoln and Lee would not have condoned such actions.

"We must have the courage and willingness to sacrifice that we may see the work begun here completed, not only in the United States, but in all the nations of the world."

The program began with an invocation by the Rev. Harold March, pastor of the Gettysburg United Brethren church. Selections were presented by a trio comprising Reginald Dunkinson, Bruce Westerdaal and Donald Bollinger. The GAR memorial service was performed with David A. Tawney acting as post commander; Attorney William A. Meals as adjutant and Dr. Henry Stewart as chaplain.

Hospital Report

Kenneth Selby, Taneytown R. 2 was discharged from the Warner hospital today after having been admitted Sunday in an unconscious condition after being struck by a baseball.

Hollabaugh, Biglerville; Mrs. Carroll Wills, Emmitsburg; Mrs. Emma Reindollar, Kingsdale; Mrs. John A. Lawver, Biglerville; John William Mickley, Biglerville R. 2, and Mrs. Leroy Harbaugh, Iron Springs. Those discharged were Helen Culp, 115 Chambersburg street; Mrs. Harry Scott and infant son, Ronald Bruce, Gettysburg R. 5; William Smith, Emmitsburg; James Ruth, Fairfield; Mrs. George F. Shelleman and infant daughter, Carol Jeanne, Gettysburg R. 4; Mrs. Robert Guise, York Springs; Charles Riffle, West Middle street, and Susan Ann Collins, Littlestown.

BULLETS LOSE

The Gettysburg college tennis team closed its season Saturday afternoon by dropping a 5-4 decision to Dickinson.

LEETI-SHEELY

Mrs. Edwin Englehart, Annville, Pa., sang "At Dawning," "The Lord's Prayer," and "Oh Promise Me."

Brother Is Best Man

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attended by Miss Bertha Sklar, Baltimore, as maid-of-honor, Mrs. A. Stanley Sheely, sister-in-law of the bride as matron of honor, and Mrs. David Forsberg of Harrisburg, and Miss Josephine Darone of Baltimore, as bridesmaids.

Robert Leeti of Fort Wayne, Ind., and brother of the groom, served as best man.

The bride wore a white satin gown with square neckline faced with old-fashioned lace and long fitted sleeves edged with identical lace. Tiny self-covered buttons marked the back closing of the fitted bodice from the neck to the waist-line and tiers of old-fashioned lace terminated in a train. Her fingertip veil was draped from a coronet and over a white bridal handkerchief she carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid, showered with satin streamers and knotted with sweet-peas. Her only jewelry was a family lavalliere.

Other Gowns

The honor maid's gown of pale pink marquisette was fashioned with drop shoulder neckline and very full skirt. She wore a matching shoulder veil floating from flapper cap and carried a spring bouquet of assorted flowers.

The honor matron's gown of yellow taffeta was fashioned with sweetheart neckline, puffed sleeves and full skirt with side bustles. She wore a matching shoulder veil and carried a spring bouquet of assorted flowers.

Mrs. Forsberg and Miss Darone in turquoise, wore embroidered taffeta gowns of identical design, with matching shoulder veils floating from sweetheart headpieces. Their flowers were arrangements of assorted spring flowers.

To Live In Indiana

Mrs. Sheely chose a gray frock with which she wore black accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Sours chose a navy blue dressmaker suit with navy accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

A luncheon followed in the Rose room of the Southern Hotel, where the four-tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom graced the table. A garland of mixed spring flowers decorated the table.

The couple left for a honeymoon trip and the bride was wearing a brown suit with tan blouse and gloves, brown accessories and a white orchid. Upon their return they will be at home in Indianapolis, Indiana.

The bride is a graduate of Biglerville high school and attended Central Penn Business college. Her husband, a graduate of Huntington high school, served with the U. S. Navy in the Pacific and is employed with Bell Telephone company in Indianapolis.

In addition to guests from Baltimore, out-of-town guests were from Pennsylvania, Indiana, Minnesota and New Jersey.
